Miss Flora Pendleton Copenhaver presented a character sketch of James Whitcomb Riley, and one of Riley's poems, "Little Orphan Annie," was given by Miss Frances Rector.

The program for the evening was on health, sanitation and prevention of accidents. Mrs. A. L. Jones is chairman of the health and sanitation committee. An address was made by Dr. M. C. Fields of Chilhowie. He directed his remarks chiefly to the school's 80 five pointers, who with their parents were honor guests at the meeting. A roll call of the five-pointers followed the address.

Mr. E. V. Greever of Chilhowie led a discussion on prevention of accidents, stressing dangers from automobiles and the need of regular fire drills in the school.

A circle of the league, Mrs. W. H. Copenhaver, chairman, announced a three day rummage sale beginning Monday. All contributions should be sent to the Vance Co.

Smyth County Exhibits, Football Game and Horse Show Big Features of Two-Day Event at Riverside TAKES PLACE THIS FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Final plans are completed and final preparations are being completed for the two-day Rich Valley community Fair at Rich Valley High School this Friday and Saturday, the 14th and 15th. A big line of exhibits from the Valley community, the annual football game between Chilhowie and Rich Valley on Friday afternoon, and the first All-Smyth-County Horse show on Saturday are expected to make this fair of interest to people from all over the county.

Chilhowie, a week ago, pulled off one of the finest community fairs ever held in Virginia and this Friday and Saturday the people of Rich Valley will attempt to equal or surpass their neighbors across the mountain.

The fair is being put on by the F. F. A. chapter at the school with the co-operation and assistance of the people of the whole community.

All departments of the fair are restricted to Rich Valley district except the saddle and draft horse shows, which have been opened to horsemen and horsewomen of the whole county.

Already a big entry list, given elsewhere in this paper, has been received for the horse show.

Catalogs for the fair were printed and mailed last week to hundreds of exhibitors.

The complete data on the fair, including departments and classes, the roll of the F. F. A. chapter, etc., follows:

Smyth Centennial, Hults Address and Folk Festival Featured in Mountain Empire'

The autumn number of "The Mountain Empire," published by Southwest Virginia Inc., has among its leading features an article by Leon D. Beville of Marion on the Smyth County Centennial Celebration, the address of E. A. Hults of Saltville at the Blue Grass Trail Association meeting held there this summer, an unsigned article describing the recent Second Annual Folk Festival staged on White Top Mountain by John Blakemore of Abingdon and Mrs. John Buchanan of Marion.

The magazine, which carries as an attractive cover illustration a scene on one of the golf courses along the Lee Highway here in Southwest Virginia, features the Blue Grass Trail Association.

Mr. Beville's article on the Centennial is a well rounded presentation of that great celebration which gives a complete picture of the sweep, size and success of the event.

Mare Killed When Truck Upsets With Six

A mare belonging to a man named Ferguson of Russell County was killed Wednesday afternoon, the 12th, when a truck, containing three other mares and two colts belonging to Harry Stuart of Elk Garden, Russell County, upset near the western limit of Marion after having been forced off the highway by a road hog.

The truck, which also belonged to Mr. Stuart, was driven by Buck Mitchell, an employee. The accident occurred on the curve in front of the Knight residence. According to Mitchell's story, a passenger car whipped around the curve coming east in the center of the road and to avoid a collision he swung over to the right, toward the steep drop off there. Then, to recover, he threw his wheel to the left. Probably the load of horses shifted. The truck crossed the road to the left, dashed up a 12-foot bank and knocked down part of the stone wall in front of Knight's. The Ferguson mare was thrown out on her head as the truck went over on its side. Another mare was slightly skinned, all the rest weren't hurt. The truck was somewhat damaged, but was able to go on in to Elk Garden with its cargo on Thursday. The mares were being taken from the breeding establishment of Sam Crockett in Wythe county.

Four Men, Two Prominent in Bristol, Face Trial Here For Diamond Robbery

Four men, two of them prominent in business and civic circles in Bristol, one of them a Bristol laborer and the fourth described by officers as a Bluefield "hoodlum" will be arraigned before Squire Farris tomorrow (Friday) morning at 10 A. M. on a charge of having robbed Mrs. E. G. McCue, Bristol beauty parlor operator, of four valuable diamonds.

The robbery, a hold up, is alleged to have been staged on a road back of Chilhowie on September 21st.

The four men are:

M. Wise Canter, business and civic leader in Bristol, president of the Bristol Typewriter Company and president of the Holston Small Loan Company.

J. D. Roller, secretary-treasurer of the Holston Small Loan Company.

R. L. "Curley" Nichols, 31, of Bluefield, W. Va.

W. R. "Slim" Roe, Bristol.

Nichols and Roe are in the Smyth County jail and have been for almost a week. Canter and Roller are at liberty on bond of $5,000 each.

The arraignment of these four men in a Smyth County court, Nichols and Roe to stand trial as the perpetrators of the hold up and Canter and Roe as their accessories, comes after vigorous work on the part of Commonwealth's Attorney Crook Gwyn and Sheriff Sam Dillard, working with the co-operation of Bristol police.

Canter and Roller have issued statements denying any guilt in engineering the robbery.

The diamonds in question were the property of Max Polansky, Asheville, N. C., man who said he dealt principally in furs and occasionally in gems. On September 21 he brought the rings to Bristol and consigned them to Mrs. McCue who was to sell them for a commission or to borrow enough money on them to clear a profit for herself and Polansky.

Polansky said the rings were worth $860 wholesale.

According to statements of Mrs. McCue, Roller told her on September 21 he knew of a person in Galax, Va., who might be a purchaser. She said they went to Galax but failed to negotiate the deal and were returning to Bristol when the robbery occurred.

She described the scene of the robbery and Bristol police located it as being on the Washington Springs road off the Lee Highway, south of Chilhowie, Va., and in Smyth county, which makes it a matter for authorities of this county.

Two men were in the car that overtook her and Roller, she said. Stopped on the Lee Highway, she continued, she and Roller, who was driving, were ordered to turn off a side road. The man she said was Nichols got into the rear of Roller's car after displaying a gun. Mrs. McCue said, and they proceeded to a point about one mile from where traffic bound for Washington Springs turns to the right at the forks of the road. It was there, she said, the rings were taken from her, with the warning to her and Roller not to move for an hour.

Police first learned of the robbery from Mrs. McCue and Polansky the night it occurred. Mrs. McCue and Roller told Polansky of the holdup immediately on their arrival in Bristol and the case then was laid before police authorities.

Chief of Police John E. Miller and Traffic Officer J. F. Ingoldsby worked day and night, making long trips and investigating lead after lead during the course of their work.

Soon after the robbery Officer Ingoldsby picked up Roe on the streets of Bristol. He booked him on a charge in connection with license tags.

Roe, questioned frequently by police, furnished police with information upon which to work.

Officer Ingoldsby said Roe confessed he was driving the robbery machine and that Nichols was his companion. He also told officers that one of the rings had been pawned at Bluefield, and gave them Nichols' address at Bluefield.

The next morning Nichols was arrested at Carswell, W. Va., at the direction of Bluefield officers. Chief Miller, Officer Ingoldsby and Mrs. McCue went to Bluefield where

The Jollies of 1932 An All Blackface Minstrel Show

The biggest thing of its kind that has been attempted in Southwest Virginia for many years, is being sponsored by the Moose throughout this section of the State, under the direction of Mr. Henry S. Barrett.

Rehearsals for this show have been under way for some time, with the largest and most select group ever picked for this work, each an artist in character parts and as musicians, and all of them well known by reason of the fact that they have starred in various productions on the stage, and many of them over the radio.

The cast of characters include: Mr. Eugene Grayson as Interlocutor, and in the circle Messrs. Harless Howard, Harry Mundy, Henry Lowman, Howard Hendrix, Jack Winston, Bill Einstine, Walter Goodykantz, Carl Hendrix, Fracy Einstine, Charles Lawrence, Frank Hendrix, and Ray Horton, with Messrs. T. Morgan, Bill Vaughn, Luther Moore and Pete Sublett as end men and Miss Helen Minston as pianist all from Montgomery County, Virginia.

Opening with a concert by the Moose Band, composed of the best talented musicians to be found in this section and who have given concerts over this part of the State with the greatest success of any bands that have been in this section, as has been shown by their press notices.

The Jollies of 1932 swings into the minstrel first part full of music, dancing, jokes and color. The Interlocutor and the end men in a cross fire of jokes, wise cracks and monkey business throughout the entire show, will keep you in a roar of mirth from start to finish. Red Vaughn's interpretation of "River Stay Way from My Door," with the assistance of the circle harmonizing the chorus will pick you up and carry you with him in the vision as he sees it, as will Bill Einstine in "Shine on Harvest Moon," Carl Hendrix in "The Blue of the Night," Jack Winston and many other soloists. Charlie Lawrence one of the cleverest tap dancers in the work today will have you on your feet before you know it, while Harless, Gene and Bill with their snappy instrumental numbers and the "Three Bills and Helen" with their catchy popular song hits will keep all your muscles and nerves twitching and tingling, with more yet in specialty numbers of this kind. Most of these are known to you from their work over radio stations WDBJ and many others. Here's your chance to see and hear them in person. The second part is a blackface skit of ten or more characters, portraying a negro school room scene wherein you see the Professor's version of how a school is conducted, and the result is a scream from start to finish, each character giving his best to this part of the play has accomplished a bit of work nothing short of professional.

See this show and let them take you away from your troubles and make you forget that such a thing as a depression ever existed, in one of the greatest evenings entertainments you have ever had. This entire show will play the following engagements: Wytheville, Va., on Saturday night, October 15th, in the Beecraft Theatre; Marion, Va., on Tuesday night, October 18, 1932, in the Court House Auditorium; Pulaski, Va., on Wednesday night, October 19th, 1932 in the Jefferson School Auditorium, on Thursday night October 20th, 1932 in the High School Auditorium at Radford, Va., and on Friday night October 20th, 1932 in the High School Auditorium at Galax, Va. Tickets can be secured now from any of the members of the Moose Fraternity and will be on sale at the box office the nights of the show.

Check Passer Makes Haul, John Scares Off Con Man

A check passer who got away with it made a trip down the Rialto Saturday, the 8th, and when the trip was over he had passed bad checks, forged with the name of a local man, on the Clarence Saunders Store, City Drug Store, Weiler's and Kroger's. They were right nice sized checks, too. The check passer vamoosed immediately.

About the same time John Shanklin, at the dairy, was approached by a man who said he represented the Eastman Kodak Company and that he was prepared to give John all the small Kodaks he wanted to be distributed to milk customers. He said the company was giving them away in order to increase film sales.

John thought he looked a bit frowzy for an angel from Eastman and sent him away for the time. Then he wired Eastman. The man was n. g. Just where the confidence game came in wasn't revealed. This "Plantation Ditty" by Mrs. W. L. Suggs.

"The Story of a Haunted Ball Room," taken from "Wilburn Waters"—a book comprising a series of articles written many years ago for the "Abingdon Virginian" by Charles Coale, was read by Mrs. W. G. Delp. Mrs. A. K. Hewitt read "Swinging in The Grape Vine Swing" by Samuel Minturn Peck, a little poem dear to the hearts of many of us because of the memories it brings of our own grape vine swings of childhood days. Mrs. C. P. Graham gave Sidney Lanier's beloved "Song of the Chattahoochee"—"The Ransom of Red Chief"—one of O'Henry's most entertaining stories was told by Mrs. H. J. Greever. This was followed by two very touching poems—"Page Book" by Francis Orrey Licknor, read by Miss Minnie Killinger and James Barron Hope's "Enlisted To-day" read by Mrs. C. C. Brown. The program was interspersed with interesting biographical sketches by Mrs. Hendricks, who closed with Father John Bannister Tabb's little poem "Evolution."

Work of Taking Up M. & RICH VALLEY COMMUNITY FAIR WILL INTEREST WHOLE COUNTY

R. V. Rails Begun, Way Clear For Highway

Work is begun this week at taking up the rails of the Marion & Rye Valley railroad between Marion and Troutdale. The work is under direction of Mr. H. T. Lawford, former superintendent of the road, and means that the way is now being cleared for an early start on the construction of permanent road on 113 south from Marion.

On Monday highway department men, under direction of Mr. Leroy O. Hines, cleared the rails of the railroad between Sugar Grove and the divide where the highway had been built over the defunct railroad. This was done so that the engine may get through to the end of the line and the work of bringing out the rails begun.

No definite word has been received in Marion since it became known last week that the $160,000 appropriation for construction of new Lee Highway west of Marion had been withdrawn and contracts, already let, cancelled by the highway commission, but it is the general hope now that this money is being diverted to construction on 113.

H. P. Falke, out on the Old Chilhowie road, had a volunteer tomato come up near his back door this year. He let it alone and watched it grow. Then he put up some supports for it. The vine, he tells us, went 12 feet high and produced more than half a bushel of tomatoes.

This Woman Lost 45 Pounds of Fat

"Dear Sirs: For 3 months I've been using your salts and am very much pleased with results. I've lost 45 lbs., 6 inches in hips and bust measure. I've taken 3 bottles—one lasting 5 weeks. I had often tried to reduce by dieting but never could keep it up, but by cutting down and taking Kruschen I've had splendid results. I highly recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. Carl Wilson, Mantou, Mich.

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning. To hasten results go light on fatty meats, potatoes, cream and pastries—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—get it at Marion Drug Co., and City Drug Store or any drugstore in America. If not perfectly satisfied after the first bottle—money back.—Adv.

LINDBERGH SENDS CONGRATULATIONS

October 5, 1932

The President, Care President's Special, Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Will you please accept my best wishes for the success of the campaign for your re-election. Your single purpose of devotion to the service of the American people deserves every support. Your experience, your courage and vision are, in my opinion, needed to pilot us safely out of the worldwide depression from which we are emerging.

CHARLES A. LINDBERGH.

SENATOR ROBINSON'S REBUKE

Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Democratic leader of the Senate, made a speech in his home state the other day in the course of which he said:

"I think that Democratic speakers should refrain from pledging the quick restoration of prosperity through legislative changes, for the reason that we should make no promises that can not be fully redeemed, and the present distressing situation has been brought about over a period of years by a combination of causes which are not all political."

Perfectly candid, sane and sensible. And yet it must have shocked the Democratic nominee for President who has been proclaiming that President Hoover alone is responsible for the present distressing situation, and promising that "Happy days will be here again" the moment he takes charge of things.

A KANSAN'S VIEW

A. C. Scott in Iola (Kan.) Register

A fighting address, that was what the President gave in Des Moines last night.

But it was not the heroic fight of a hard pressed defender his back to the wall—it was the thrilling charge of the plumed knight who crashes against his foe with courage in his heart, with joy in his strength, with confidence in his victory.

He did not defend the record of his administration, he bragged about it! He did not apologize for the hard times we have had, he told his audience to thank God for the measures which have been taken that prevented them from being infinitely worse. He did not defend himself against Democratic attacks, he thrust his own spear of criticism deep into their vulnerable armor. He carried the attack every inch of the way with courage and confidence and bold decision.

GARNER DODGES BONUS

"I haven't made any statement on the bonus question, and I don't intend to make any."

That was the reply of the "bold," "frank," "courageous" John Nance Garner, Democratic nominee for Vice President when asked for his position on this important issue.

And so the tail of the Democratic ticket joins the hand of that ticket in refusing to tell the American people where he stands on a question that is certain to come up in the next Congress and that is of vital interest to American business.

The reason Roosevelt and Garner refuse to commit themselves on this question, of course, is because they fear they would lose votes whatever their answer would be.

Do the people want to put at the head of their government men who openly and obviously play the demagogue on a question upon which may rest the stability of our financial system?

THE PRESIDENT'S ANSWER

Speaking at Fort Wayne, Ind., President Hoover said:

"During my public life I have believed that sportsmanship and statesmanship called for the elimination of harsh personalities between opponents. On this journey, however, I have received a multitude of reports as to widespread personal misrepresentations which have been promulgated in the Midwest in the past few weeks. I regret that the character of these personalities necessitates a direct word from me.

"I shall say now the only harsh word that I have uttered in public office. I hope it will be the last I shall have to say. When you are told that the President of the United States, who by the most sacred trust of our nation is President of all the people, a man of your own blood and upbringing, has sat in the White House for the last three years of your misfortune without troubling to know your burdens, without heartaches over your miseries and casualties, without summoning every avenue of skillful assistance, irrespective of party or view, without using every ounce of his strength and straining his every nerve to protect and help, without using every possible agency of democracy that would bring aid, without putting aside personal ambition and humbling his pride of opinion, if that would serve—then I say to you that such statements are deliberate, intolerable falsehoods."

A LITTLE MORE SPECIFIC, PLEASE

Nagged by persistent questioners in Arizona who insisted on knowing whether he would favor Argentine, Australian or Mexican beef in preference to that of Arizona through tariffs, Candidate Roosevelt at last said petulantly:

"No answer to that question ought even to be necessary, because it ought to be well enough known by now that I am for American products first."

But the answer to that question WAS necessary for the candidate is going about over the country denouncing the present tariff law and telling those who listen to him that prosperity can never come back to America until it is radically changed. Arizona cattle growers had a right to know if their product is one of the things upon which the tariff is to be changed. Arizona copper miners might well have asked if the candidate would cut the tariff on their product. Oregon lumber interest might wish to know if it is their product that must take the gaff. Farmers in all the States may wish to know if the candidate would include grain and hay and poultry products and dairy products and the other things they grow among the things upon which the tariff is to be reduced when he enters upon his plan of "negotiating" for world trade. And so all the way down the line.

The candidate should not grow peevish because people ask him to be specific. If he is elected he will have to be specific. It is only fair that he should say NOW what he proposes to do, and not insist on waiting until after the votes have been cast.

The candidate says he is "for American products first." Is he for all American products first? If he is, then he should quit talking about reducing the tariff. If he is for only some American products first, then he should specify the ones he is not for first.

Are You Giving Serious Consideration To What May Happen To You In Case of Fire?

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK OCTOBER 9-15

What are you going to do if your property takes fire? What is your first move? We will bet dollars to doughnuts that you have not discussed this all-important matter with a single member of your family or given it the first thought, and such being the case, if your property is discovered on fire, you are going to flounder around like a hen with its head cut off. You won't know which way to turn or what to do. There will be bedlam cut loose. You and the members of your family will be floundering around, and instead of using your heads you will have lost them, and ten to one all of you will do mighty little effective work, until other cooler heads have arrived.

Why don't you talk it over with your family? Tell them of the great dangers of fire and what they should do to avoid them and what to do to extinguish them in case they start. School teachers tell the pupils what to do in case of fire and they have frequent drills and instead of becoming panicky, they move out of the building in regular order and without turmoil, and when they have been called upon to vacate a burning building they do not rush out like a flock of sheep, trampling over each other, because they have been taught what to do and when.

Many farm dwelling fires start in the small hours when the family is sleeping soundly. Most children sleep on the upper floors. Have you ever instructed your children what they should do in case the house took fire in the night when they were sleeping? How they could save their lives if the stairway were in flames? If you have not then you are simply paving the way to let them burn to death in their beds or rooms, in case their exit is shut off by the way which they usually get up stairs.

If your house should take fire in the night and burn any of your children to death, or even cripple them for life, if you have not told them what to do in case of fire, then you would have something to think about, and the horror of the fire which, through your carelessness and neglect has taken the life or maimed one or more of your children will follow you through all the remaining years of your life.

Now don't take this warning too lightly. There are thousands of fathers and mothers whose children are occupying graves in the country church yard because of their carelessness. They would give everything that they own or hope to possess, if they might have their loved ones back with them once more. This has happened thousands of times and you are no more apt to escape such conditions than those who are bereft of their children because they did not safeguard their homes against fire destruction or teach their children what to do in case of fire.

W. E. FRANCIS,
Marion Fire Chief.

Konnarock Items

The two inch ram of Wednesday, October 5th, did much to replenish the water supply, and the frost of Thursday night, October 6, froze all tender vegetation.

The Rev. Mr. Lane of Marion has been holding a revival at Azen for the past three weeks.

Mr. Lee McDaniel's, who has been quite sick for two weeks, is now to be out again.

Tuesday and Wednesday, October 4th and 5th, were busy days, when all available teams and trucks were employed in unloading several cars of coal set in at Creek Junction for the Konnarock Training School and the Iron Mountain School for boys.

Mr. Lee Waters has purchased from Mr. L. C. Hassinger, the old Konnarock depot, in which he will operate his store.

The Rev. Dr. C. L. Miller left Sunday, October 9th to attend the meeting of the Brotherhood of The United Lutheran Church in Harrisburg, Pa., October 10th and 11th.

Mr. Harper Hull, of Toms Creek, Va., spent the latter part of the week in Marion as the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hull.

91% of All Human Ills Originate In Stomach

Failure to Supply Body With Essential Minerals Allows Excessive Acids to Destroy Health and Vitality.

Medical science, constantly searching for ways to prolong life, frequently come forward with startling statements of their findings, but no more astounding announcement has been made in recent years than the statement of an eminent Chemist who now declares that "There is no natural death. All deaths from so-called natural causes are merely the end point of progressive acid saturation."

deficiencies of these vital elements—and at last their efforts have been rewarded.

AID TO NATURE

LEE'S MINERAL COMPOUND, a new and revolutionary formula, actually supplies the system with these vital elements so necessary to health and happiness. It contains the eleven essential Minerals in well balanced proportion, together with Vitamins, and is an invaluable aid to nature in the building of blood, bone, nerve and tissue.

TIMELY WARNING

An amazing statement indeed but a warning that if heeded, should improve the health and well being, increase the joy of living, and prolong the lives of millions of men, women and children who might otherwise drag through a weary life on an untimely end.

ELIMINATES POISONS

It will rid your system of excess acid, sweep away the dangerous poisons, supply the body with the needed minerals, stimulate the organs of digestion and assimilation, build rich, red blood, clear the skin, give you a keen, hearty appetite, help you to get sound, refreshing sleep, restore health, strength and vitality and enable you to enjoy life to the fullest.

ACIDITY KILLS MILLIONS

Chilhowie Fails To Keep Schedule With Saltville And Does Not Explain

Chilhowie High Football team was scheduled to play Saltville on the latter grounds last Saturday but failed to keep their engagement and offered no definite reasons. The Riverside Team says that Chilhowie is saving up their men for the contest at the Rich Valley Fair on October 14th when Chilhowie and Rich Valley put on the chief attraction of the afternoon. However this may be, as a result of Chilhowie's refusal to keep their date, Saltville had to do some hustling and finally secured a game with Honaker.

Saltville High Outplays Honaker By Score of 31 to 6

The Honaker High boys came to Saltville last Saturday to take the place of Chilhowie, who defaulted their game and made one touch down against Saltville while the latter was running up 31 points.

After the first quarter, Coach Mauk saw that victory was on the local side and began running in his second string. The subs kept up the scoring until the last quarter when Honaker took a brace and made a touch down end runs and line bucking. They failed to make the extra point. At this stage of the game, early in the last quarter, the first string men of Saltville were put back in the game, and in the last few minutes of play the prettiest piece of work was done by the locals. Bolton shot a forward to Percy Campbell who caught it some twenty yards from the goal and went over with it.

The main feature of Saturday's game was the fumbling done by both sides in which Saltville played the most prominent part. Everybody seemed to have a touch of the maldy, which, by the way had better be cured before Bristol appears on the local gridiron.

"Beat Bristol Va." Is The Cry In The Local Football Circles

Next Friday, October 14th, the Saltville High Team will meet the Bristol Virginia High on the local gridiron and may expect a hard game. Bristol has met and defeated Kingsport, Elizabethton, E. & H. Freshmen and Marion and the Saltville boys are determined to break this winning streak. They can do it and are drilling hard on their formations and line work to have a perfect machine in good running order. They will need the moral support of the town. Not only the school mates but every lover of football and every loyal citizen who takes pride in his High School Boys. Let's make this a record crowd for it is the big game of the season and Saltville wants to show Bristol how we back our team. Come early, tell some one else to come along, and when you get there don't forget to yell for the local team.

Saltville has a clean slate so far, this season and wants to keep it clean. We have a good team. Let's hope for the best.

Rural Retreat Fights

Glade Spring To Draw

Rural Retreat fought Glade Spring to a 0-0 football tie, at Rural Retreat Friday afternoon, the 7th.

Heavily outweighed, the Rural Retreat eleven put up a strong battle that netted 11 first downs to nine for the visitors and made several serious threats. Glade Spring also had opportunities to score but a stubborn defense staved off touchdowns.

On two occasions Glade Spring lost the ball on downs on the one-yard line. An intercepted pass on the seven-yard line in the dying minutes of play by the locals and a return to past midfield was a highlight of the game.

Coach Reynolds has only five lettermen on the team.

Rich Valley High Steers Trample Hillsville 18-0

Rich Valley High School Steers stampled over Hillsville on Friday the 7th, in a football game played at Hillsville and came home with an 18 to 0 victory.

The victory means that the Steers are all set for Chilhowie, conquerors of Marion, when the two teams meet this Friday in their annual fray. The game is one of the features of the two-day Rich Valley Community Fair.

Coach Whitmore Hurt's boys rested Saturday and will go into the game Friday with two full weeks of preparation. Both teams this year are better than at any time in the past. Last year they fought to a 6-6 tie on Fair Day.

Against Hillsville, R. V. Patrick and Hodge proved to be the outstanding ball toters for the Steers. Patrick got 10 yards around right end on the first play of the game and a bit later scored after a 20 yard dash. He got a second touch-down on a 10 yard bust. Hodge scored the third one with a series of slam-bang line drives. Hodge intercepted a pass for a 35 yard return during the game and Patrick fetched a punt back 30 yards to give Coach Bowman and the Rich Valley supporters another thrill.

The game was won, though, by the whole Rich Valley team working together. The boys clicked fine. The line-up was: Wells, le; T. Talbert, lt; DeBord, lg; Buchanan, c; McCready, rg; Hill, rt; Gillespie, re; Hodge, qb; Roberts, rh; Patrick, lb; Talbert, fb.

AGRI-NOTES

By R. E. Bass Agricultural Instructor

Particularly interesting is the story of a Minnesota boy who spent six months with the A. F. F. in France, came home in 1931, married an Irish girl and settled on a farm under a $12,000 mortgage, increased the mortgage with $2,000 of personal debts and lived to tell the tale. No one would advise starting out under these handicaps, but the fact that it has been done (but that was back in 1921) and this man is still making some money should be encouraging. The story appears in Hord's Dairyman. The farm enterprises are nearly all livestock, dairy cows, poultry, hogs and enough crops to use for feed. The secret of this man's success has been his fighting qualities combined with that of an Irish better half, his ability to collect and use information from proven sources and the sanitary practices used in the production of his livestock.

The newest idea in transportation is a freight car that runs both off and on the tracks. It is a truck with pneumatic tires that has flanges to keep it on the rails when used as a railroad car. When run on the highway the flanges are elevated, and since it has its own motor it may be driven to your back door to deliver produce, or even down in the country to pick up a load. It can be hitched in a train and drawn at a high rate of speed.

There are lots of ways in which boys who belong to F. F. A. chapters may pick up a little money on the side, or get some little thing that they do not have the money to buy. The Poole Manufacturing Company in Sherman, Texas will give an F. F. A. uniform to the student of vocational agriculture who sells six ties, another company will give a pen and pencil to the Future Farmer who gets three subscriptions to a magazine, and other advertisements of this nature come to the F. F. A. chapter or agricultural instructor from time to time. To the wide awake boy with initiative these propositions furnish an opportunity to get some real experience and a reward for his efforts.

Commercial Apples

Richmond, Virginia, October 12, 1932.

A reduction of about 20 per cent in the commercial apple crop during September is the outstanding feature of the October report of the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service. As a result of the drought apples are much smaller than usual and in addition to the small size worm injury has reduced the percentage of the crop suitable for packing. The October forecast is 51,650,000 barrels, compared with last year's crop of 3,500,000 barrels and the five-year average of 2,602,000 barrels. Rains during the last week of September improved late varieties

A Letter From The Governor

To the Members of the General Assembly and Municipal and County Officials:

In order that Virginia may avail itself of relief funds provided by Section 1 of Title 1 of the Federal Emergency Relief and Construction Act of 1932, I have appointed a Virginia Relief Committee, consisting of Arthur W. James, Commissioner of Public Welfare, Chairman, Henry G. Shirley, State Highway Commissioner, and E. R. Combs, State Comptroller. It will be the duty of this committee to assist in the preparation of all applications for relief funds, to survey the sections asking for help, and to administer for me the expenditure of all money that may be secured from the United States Reconstruction Finance Corporation (hereinafter for brevity called the R. F. C.) for the purpose of furnishing relief to needy and distressed people and in relieving the hardship resulting from unemployment.

Applications for these funds by me to the R. F. C. All such applications must be accompanied by factual and statistical data showing the need for funds in addition to private, local and State funds available for relief purposes. Few communities have up to this time furnished me with the local information which the R. F. C. has declared a prerequisite to consideration of applications for relief.

Relief funds amounting to $233,367.00 have been secured for the counties of Halifax, Pulaski and Wise through prompt action on the part of citizens of these counties in furnishing me local facts and figures required by the R. F. C. The Virginia Relief Committee will, in every way possible, assist local authorities in securing this necessary data. Localities interested should immediately write or wire Hon. Arthur W. James, Chairman, State Office Building, Richmond, Virginia.

It is proposed to use money secured from the R. F. C. to provide, if possible, work relief on roads for men who without such aid would be unable to maintain themselves and families. It is hoped that the counties and municipalities of the State will be able to secure funds from other sources to take care of all necessary direct relief.

All such funds will be reimbursed to the R. F. C. with interest at 3 per cent not less than five annual deductions from future Federal appropriations to State roads beginning in 1935.

Under an entirely separate and distinct provision of the law loans may be made by the R. F. C. for projects self-liquidating in nature, such as toll bridges, water, gas and electric plants, sewers, and sewer disposal plants and municipal market houses, etc. Though the Governor has no legal function to perform as to the loans last mentioned, yet he has set up a committee for the purpose of aiding Virginia applicants. The Chairman of this Committee is Col. Julien H. Hill, Virginia State Chamber of Commerce, Richmond, Virginia, to whom all inquiries as to self-liquidating enterprises should be addressed.

Assuring you of my active and earnest cooperation, I am

Cordially yours,
John Garland Pollard,
Governor.

Eight Hundred Cows Upset Program

(By Carter Wormeley)

Richmond, Va., Oct. 1.—The public inspection of the scenic trail, known as the Skyline Drive, which was to have taken place in September, has been postponed until May of next year owing to the fact that eight hundred head of cattle pastured on the crest of the Blue Ridge mountains in this section could not be removed.

The Skyline Drive passes through various pieces of property. This has necessitated the temporary erection of no less than eighteen gates, each of which is secured with chains and a lock. To remove the eight hundred cows, with their several "heroes," would this time have necessitated entering into negotiations and contracts with the owners of these bovines which would probably have resulted in a considerable expenditure of money. For this reason the proposed public opening of the roadway has been postponed until next spring to avoid the winter snow, which frequently renders the mountains impassable.

While the public will not be invited to inspect the Skyline Drive until next May, Chairman William L. Carson, of the State Commission on Conservation and Development, will have as his guests today on the scenic trail a number of state office holders, or at least such servants of the Commonwealth as have no dread of horned animals which go "moo". The party will return from the mountains this evening.

Landscape artists who have inspected the Skyline Drive declare it equal in scenic splendor to anything of its kind in the Swiss Alps. In some places the road reaches an altitude of 2,500 feet. From the roadway is visible most of the Shenandoah Valley to the west and north, while the foothill country stretches to the south and east. Construction of the road was one of the most difficult engineering feats of modern times and was financed through federal funds.

$10 And Costs

This was the fine for Bob Sims, picked up by Deputy George Gullion in front of the court house Monday evening, when tried before Mayor Greer Tuesday morning on a drunk charge. Bob claimed he was just sick at his stomach.

Mr. Ralph Scott, of Washington, D. C., spent the week-end here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Kent and Mrs. Julia Scott.

Eight Scientific Miracles Claimed For Nobel Prize Process

(Advertisement)

Reminiscent of the X-Ray in the scope of its possibilities is the newly perfected hydrogenation process, which won the Nobel Chemistry Prize last year.

The famous discovery, which attracted world-wide interest in scientific circles when it was first announced, now promises to become highly important factor in the field of industry.

At least eight what might be termed "scientific miracles" are claimed for hydrogenation.

A safety fuel, used in the regular gasoline engines of airplanes and motorboats and which will not explode even if you drop lighted matches and cigarettes into it, is one of the most interesting discoveries.

Hydrogenation has already been used in Germany during the war for the manufacture of ammonia and explosives. The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey's plant at Bayway, New Jersey, could be converted for this purpose in case of national emergency.

Nitrate fertilizers are another accomplishment.

Dyes—which, like fertilizers and ammonia, have made by the I. G. Farbenindustrie or German Dye Trust—make a fourth.

A new motor oil, which for the first time satisfies all five lubrication requirements of the modern automobile engine, is the most valuable recent accomplishment of hydrogenation. The product, which is called "Essolube" was announced here last month by the "Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

Still another achievement of the process is a line of hydrogenated solvent naphthas, expected to find a market in the paint, lacquer, rubber and artificial leather industries. Particularly they are believed to make possible the further development of synthetic resin finishes greatly superior to lacquer, which may revolutionize automobile coatings.

An anti-knock blending agent, intended chiefly for export consumption, is a further discovery.

Should the world ever run dry of its petroleum reserves—not an unlikely event someday—gasoline and other products could be made from coal, shale and lignite by means of hydrogenation.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The Girl Scouts of Marion have held their regular meetings the last two weeks even though Captain Culbert has been out of town. Patrols Three and Four had charge of the program for September 30th. After having formation and the Patrol meetings we went to the Baptist Revival in a body.

Last Friday, October 7, Patrols 1 and 2 had charge of the program. After opening formation, led by Patrol leader Agnes Crockett in Mrs. Culbert's absence, the patrols went to their respective patrol corners. After this games were played.

Captain Culbert has been visiting in Richmond for the last two weeks. From there she went on down to Virginia Beach to attend the National Girl Scout Convention there. She then went to the tea given by Mrs. Herbert Hoover at the White House on Friday. Mrs. Culbert got home on Saturday. She says she has a lot of new ideas. We didn't realize how much we need her until she was gone. Anyway, we surely are glad she is back.

The regular meeting will be held next Friday night.

Mrs. McCue viewed Nichols in the jail and said he appeared to be the man who robbed her. Nichols, who gave his address there as Jenkins, Ky., came to Bristol without demanding extradition.

Roe, who is known in Bristol generally as a steady workman, said he had never been in trouble with police but once in his life. That time, he said, was when he was charged with drunkenness after "taking too many aspirin tablets."

Nichols' story was retold for the benefit of Commonwealth's Attorney Crockett Gwyn and Sheriff S. F. Dillard of Smyth county in a conference Sunday afternoon, following which they had the warrants served on Canter and Roller.

One of the rings, valued by Polansky at $300 wholesale, was found in Sam Turk's loan office in Bluefield. It was identified by Mrs. McCue and Polansky as the Asheville man's property.

Turk said Nichols accompanied another man to his shop, and that he loaned Nichols' companion $225 on the ring.

Polansky and Chief of Police Miller both emphasized that the prosecution has no charges against Mrs. McCue and regards her as without connection in the alleged robbery.

Bond for Canter was supplied by Leonard Hall and Donald T. Stant, long standing friends of Canter. Canter went on Roller's bond.

No bond was fixed for Nichols or Roe.

The investigation by police, based on statements supplied by Roe and other undisclosed witnesses for the prosecution, revealed that one of the witnesses was in possession of the combinations to several safes of business firms in Bristol, and police successfully opened the safes of J. Walter Wright Co., and John York of East Tennessee Light and Power Co.

William Furgerson died suddenly at his home here Sunday, October 9th. Funeral services were conducted from the home Monday by Rev. W. H. Carter. He is survived by his wife and four children. Burial was in Mount Zion cemetery.
