A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place in the way of literature. Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as "Sol," has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of the 2d N. Y. Cavalry and of the 38th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows:

"Several of our old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart, Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of their nature we have ever known. We have none but words of praise for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and tone up the system wonderfully. We say to all, try these remedies."—Solomon Yewell, Marion, Ind., Dec. 5, 1882.

These remedies are sold by druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price $1 per bottle, six and $5 per dozen. They positively contain neither opium nor dangerous drugs.

Sold by druggists.

A COLD RIDE.

I had just finished a hearty supper and had ordered my horses when the landlord of the country inn entered and said:

"There is a lady here tonight who is desperately anxious to get to Trenton by tomorrow morning."

"Why doesn't she go?"

"She can't. All my horses are storm-staid, and you can't hire a team hereabouts, as you may know."

I am not naturally disobliging, but to be asked to take a lady in your sleigh when the snow is deep and likely to be drifted is not pleasant.

Moreover, since Kate McDonald and I had quarreled over the attentions paid her by her handsome, rich cousin, which she either could not or would not explain, I never cared for woman's society. Where was Kate now? I often wondered.

"She really seems to be in great trouble, sir, because she can't go on, said the landlord as I paused to consider."

"Well; tell her to get ready. I suppose I must say yes."

"By the way, sir, you want when you get near the burned land, 10 miles from here, to keep a sharp lookout to the right for a road that turns off to the right. The straight road leads to Brantton, but nobody lives on it."

"All right."

When I had donned my overcoat, far cap and comforter, I laughed at the thought that my passenger would not be able to tell whether she had a young man or an old one for a companion.

As I reached the sleigh an animated bundle of clothes, with a suggestion of femininity about it, came out.

The lady took her place in the sleigh, I sat in beside her. The landlord and the hostler tucked in the robes, bade us good night, and we were off.

It was 24 miles to Brenton. The going was heavy. The horses could not trot, but settled down to a walk.

How cold it was! The bright disk of Venus shone with wonderful splendor and the pitiless wind seemed to come straight from the star.

"Are you cold?" I shouted, for the wind rendered it useless to speak in an ordinary tone. She answered that she was, whereupon I told her to get down in the sleigh. She did, and I pulled in the robes over her head, she nestling very close to me. Somehow this was not altogether disagreeable.

The wind swept stretch of road was six miles long, and when we had gone about a third of the distance the horses stopped.

I urged them a little, but soon saw that it was of no use.

Telling my companion to crouch low in the sleigh, I covered her well with the robes, and going in front of the horses began to trample down the snow.

I worked with all my speed, yet it was more than an hour, I judge, before I had a track made for them.

When I returned to the sleigh, I was thoroughly heated and as wet from perspiration as if I had been plunged into water. Protecting myself as well as possible from the blast, which seemed to grow in strength, I urged the horses along.

As they proceeded slowly my companion threw the covering from her head and said:

"You must have got heated, working as hard as you did. If you sit there till the cold strikes you, you will die."

"I do not think there is any danger," I said.

"But I know there is," answered she. Then throwing down the robes she stood up in the sleigh and added: "Give me the reins. Get down there out of the wind and cover yourself up."

At this moment a shudder passed over me, and I realized what truth there might be in her words.

A second shudder, worse than the first, roused me thoroughly to my danger, and protesting that it was only for a minute or two I crouched down and allowed her to cover me.

I was soon shaking like one in an ague-fit, hot and cold by turns. How slow we seemed to be going! Two or three times I tried to rise and take the reins, but was quite unable, and my companion assured me each time that she was not cold and was doing famously—the excitement kept her warm, she said.

I did not believe her. She suffered terribly, but I did not know until they told me weeks afterward, at the hotel in Brenton, that she took off her own wraps to make my covering, for I was insensible when they lifted me out of the sleigh.

When, three weeks later, weak from fever, I employed my first conscious moment in asking after my companion, the nurse told me that she had driven the horses into Brenton at a gallop.

Not knowing about the roads, she had naturally enough followed the straight one and for 14 miles had driven through the forest, with me lying unconscious at her feet.

As they carried me in the lady fell before the fire in a faint.

Strange to say, she was really not very much the worse for her terrible experience, but I had waked up in a fever and for three weeks had been delirious.

A Fortunate Free Trade District.

Editor American Economist:—A Protectionist in Virginia would be about as profitably employed in "singing psalms to a dead mule," as in undertaking to array the Virginia Democratic Congressmen against the Wilson bill.

The Clevelandites are hoping in some way—they cannot say how—that Cleveland's ideas are to be the salvation of the country. The only way to convince them is to give them a dose of the medicine they so eagerly desire. Like those who fought to establish the Southern Confederacy, they will not be convinced until dissolution asserts supreme sway.

"Ephraim is joined to his idols—let him alone." This district, until January 1, 1894, was represented by the Hon. Charles T. O'Ferrall, who on the question of the tariff out of Cleveland's Cleveland, and who is as earnest in insisting that the "tariff is a tax" as he is in the idea that the country can never prosper under other than Democratic rule.

On January 1 Mr. O'Ferrall was inaugurated Governor of Virginia. An election has been ordered for January 30 to fill the vacancy created in Congress by O'Ferrall's resignation. Therefore, during the months of January the Free Trade district of Virginia will have no representative. You will see that this district is better off than any other Democratic district in the country—for the reason that, in the House of Representatives, during the month of January there will be no one to stand by Professor Wilson. If every Democratic district in the U. S. could have the same experience during this month there would be a prospect of killing the Wilson bill, but unfortunately all the Democratic Representatives were not elected Governors and we must prepare to bear that the bill has been "railroaded" through the House, and to receive with equanimity the intelligence that it has passed the Senate.

"If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded though one arose from the dead." The Wilson bill will become a law, but we have the wise words of General Grant to cheer us in the assurance that "the best way to secure the repeal of an obnoxious law is to enforce it." In 1894, at the Congressional elections in the fall, the clouds will gather, and in 1896 the Presidential election the storm will burst and sweep Cleveland and his Free Trade followers so far from the face of the earth that all the genius of "Far-far Reformers" for a century to come will not be able to rescue them from their merited physical oblivion.

A String of Conundrums.

Why is a fierce thunderstorm like an onion? Because it is peal on peal.

Why does an old maid never play the violin? She doesn't know how to catch the bow (bean).

What class of tradesmen succeed best by going to the wall? Paper-hangers.

Why is a proud girl like a music box? She is full of airs.

Why is love like a Scotch plaid? Because it's all stuff and often cross-seed.

When a lady faints, what figure should you bring her? You must bring her 2.

What consolation has a homely girl? She will be a pretty old if she lives long enough.

The Three Prayers.

A Republican, a Democrat and a Prohibitionist went up to the temple to pray.

The Republican stood up with his face toward Heaven prayed: "Oh, Lord, we thank thee that we are not like other men. We thank Thee first of all for the pure, incorruptible, holy, Republican party. We thank Thee that all Democrats are liars, and all Prohibitionist fools, and that we alone are good. We have no particular favor to ask, knowing that to be consistent Thou must of necessity be with us."

The Democrat prayed thus: "Oh, Lord, we do not often bother Thee with our prayers, yet there be a few things wherein Thou canst be of great use to us. Bless Cleveland, oh, Lord, but curse his civil service. Bless the Prohibitionist in the North but damn him in the South. Bless Minnesota, and that little Norwegian Knute Nelson, but curse Pennsylvania. The rest, oh, Lord thou canst safely leave to our care."

The Prohibitionist fell on his knees as usual and prayed: "Oh, Lord, Thou knowest we have done but pray, to these many years, now we are going to fight and do Thou, oh, Lord, be pleased to stand by and see fair play, while we show the Pharisees and Sadducees that there is a God in Israel."—Ex.

No century can begin on a Wednesday, Friday or Saturday. The 1st of October always falls on the same day of the week as the 1st of January; the 1st of April the same day of the week as the 1st of July; December the same as September; February, March and November begin on the same day of the week, while May, June and August commence on different days. Of course these rules do not apply to leap year. The ordinary year always begins and ends the same day of the week, while every twenty eighth year the calendar for the year is the same.

Tried to Rob Himself.

A thrilling story of robbery and murder comes from Union county, Va. Win. Howard is tax collector of the county, and was recently notified to close up his belated returns and hand them in. Friday night a peddler called at Howard's house and was taken in for a night's lodging, the tax collector soon leaving for Atlanta.

About two hours after Howard's departure a ragged looking negro entered the house and after robbing the peddler ordered Mrs. Howard to bring out the tax money. While he was receiving the money the peddler, who was watching his chance, fired, killing the robber instantly. The next day it was discovered that the dead body was that of the Tax Collector Howard who had adopted this scheme of keeping the county's money.

PROVISIONS OF THE BILL WITH REFERENCE TO LOSS OF STOCK BY RAILROADS.

The bill passed by the House a day or two ago amending section 1261 of the Code of Virginia in relation to when railroads are liable for injury done to live stock is quite an important measure. Its patron is Mr. Saunders, of Franklin. The section, as amended, will read:

"Whenever the live stock of any shall go in upon a railroad track or right of way in this State, and the said railroad at such point of entrance has not enclosed the track or right of way as required by law, or having enclosed it has failed to maintain it as required by law, and such stock is injured or killed by the said company's trains, or the said stock by being frightened or run by any passing locomotive or train on said railroad shall be injured or killed by reason of having run against the fence on either side, or into any culvert, bridge, slough, or mine, or other object along the track of said road, and upon the right of way, the railroad company shall pay owner of such stock so injured or killed the damage sustained."

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salubrious, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood, frequent headaches ensue; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

Rev. R. G. Wilson, Princeton, N. J., says: "I find nothing helps so much to keep me in good working condition as Simmons Liver Regulator."

LISTEN!

The Richmond Times' Exposure of Fraud in Elections.

From the Times of the 5th.

The exposure we make this morning of what took place at Smither's store precinct, in Henrico county at the election on November 7, 1893, should make every citizen of Virginia pause and ask himself earnestly and seriously if he has any voice in his government as matters now stand. Three hundred and fifty votes were all that were cast at this precinct, yet the election officers recorded six hundred and eleven and that by the most open and barefaced methods of stuffing the ballot box. No bold but successful fraud made them that they neglected the most ordinary precautions for covering up their tricks. The copying of "blocks of five" from the registration book is perhaps the most open and barefaced fraud that ever was attempted before under similar circumstances. By this method, a precinct which had never before given more than one hundred and seventy-seven Democratic votes in an honest election, was made to give four hundred and ninety-eight Democratic votes. It could just as easily have been made to give one thousand if they had been needed.

This thing could not have happened without the connivance of all the election officers at that precinct. It is, therefore, to be considered as part of and belonging to our election system. A system which makes those who have exclusive control of the elections a board of partisans, all of one party, to hold their meetings, in secret, keep no records and be accountable to no one, must of course work its way by degrees to elections like that held at Smither's.

The Times has uncovered what was done at this precinct by its own unaided efforts. It was of course at a great disadvantage from having to pick up its information here and there and whenever it could find an item it had no power to compel the attendance of witnesses to give evidence. If it had this power it has not the slightest doubt that it could show that a state of affairs similar to that at Smither's exists in almost every, if not every, negro county.

The Dispatch has repeatedly taunted the Times with the question, "Why do you not go with your allegations of fraud before the grand jury?" We have now proved fraud. What does the Dispatch think will be done? We can tell it. Nothing. It is very doubtful whether the grand jury in districts any one. But if it does there will be no conviction. Men cannot be expected to be better than their laws. The Anderson-McCormick law was understood by the people to be intended to be a shelter for cheating in elections. It has demoralized a great part of the moral sense of the people and they look on at the frauds that are perpetrated in elections with a shrug on the shoulder and inwardly thank that their election troubles are ended.

But are they ended? Is it any relief to escape negro rule to fall under the absolute and autocratic rule of a ring of election thieves and ballot-box stuffers? What is the use of an citizen voting again? His vote is not counted unless it suits the election officers to count it. What part has the citizen in his government? None, absolutely none. He had just as well stay at home as to go to the polls. The result is the same in either case.

The Legislature has not to confront this case. It cannot now be passed by. It must now either meet the situation in a manly way or it must expect the people of Virginia to understand that it intends that the laws shall be considered as made to wink and connive at fraud in elections.

The Wilson Free Trade Tariff bill passed the House last Thursday evening by a majority of 64.

The Virginia legislature has voted down the proposition to make the railroads give the members of that body free passes.

It is said that ex President Harrison is now an avowed supporter of Gov. McKinley for the next presidential nomination.

With Republican, Democratic and Populist candidates in all the districts of this state next fall, we are promised a red hot campaign.

Representative Swanson says he has been gone to department for some time to try for passes for his constituents, for the reason that he found out there was no hope of success, as all the patronage is now being given to senators whose votes are needed for the confirmation of appointments.

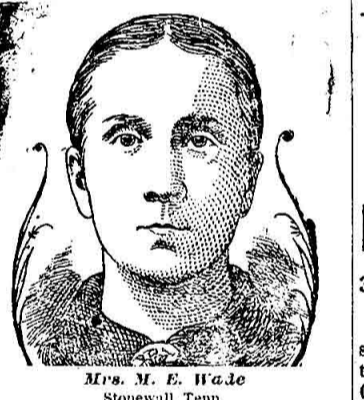

Mr. Massey has recommended that the legislature pass a law compelling County Treasurers to pay school teachers regularly each month, and not hold the pay back for speculative purposes. He says the money is held back for this purpose in a number of counties, and that the evil should be remedied at once.

A bill is now pending in the Virginia Legislature to admit women to the University of that State, and it is believed that it will pass. One of the main arguments advanced in support of the bill is that women who want to fit themselves for the higher grades of teaching now have to go outside of Virginia to find the proper training.

The House has passed the Wilson Tariff bill. This Tariff bill was deliberately framed with two improper and unpatriotic motives—to break down industries which have been established and grandly developed by Republican Protection, and to create so great a deficiency that the income tax which the communists of the West and South demanded would seem necessary. Holding these two evil purposes steadily in view, the Democrats have turned aside only where corrupt jobs or shameful sectionalism promised riches or a seat in Congress, and made members deaf to all else. Naturally the party was strayed for selfish interest often by men who were all the time betraying the interests of their country for sake of party.

Mr. Cleveland's Shocking Hawaiian Policy.

The feebleness of the support which Mr. Cleveland's followers are giving him in the House is no fault of their. They are pleading a cause which is shocking to common sense and to the instincts and traditions of the American people.

A Helpless Invalid

Kidney and Liver Trouble and Nervous Debility
16 Years of Suffering Ended by Taking Hood's.
"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass."
"The effects of Hood's Sarsaparilla in my case have been truly marvelous. It far surpasses any other medicine I have ever taken. For 16 years I was troubled with torpid liver, kidney trouble and nervous debility, and was a helpless invalid."
I have been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for three months and I feel that I am cured. I feel better now than I have for sixteen years. I think God first, for my health, and C. I. Hood & Co., second, for Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have recommended it to all my neighbors and several of them are using Hood's Sarsaparilla with good results. I am 63 years old and feel better than I did at 42."

Ben. Goble and E. J. Fowler have leased the room upstairs in the Richardson building lately used by J. J. Fowler, where they are well prepared to serve all who may patronize them. Their long experience as barbers is a sufficient guarantee that they are masters of their profession.

Trespass Notice.

All persons are hereby notified not to trespass, in any manner whatever, upon my lands in Rich Valley, adjoining the lands of R. J. Youg, James E. Thompson (deceased), Geo. W. Hayes and James E. Sexton. Any person or persons who disregard this notice will be dealt with as the law directs.

Why Hood's Wins

President Lincoln said, "You cannot fool the people a second time." They are too quick to recognize real merit or lack of it, and cling only to those things which they find to be what is claimed for them.

It is especially gratifying that the sale of Hood's Sarsaparilla increases most rapidly in those sections where it is best known.

The inference is plain. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven that it possesses genuine merit. It maintains a high standard, which others cannot even approach. It is the people's favorite blood-purifying and building up medicine, and is more popular this year than ever before. All this because Hood's Cures.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis. was troubled with Neuralgia and Rheumatism, his Stomach was disordered, his Liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.
Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill. had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John J. Specker, Oatwaha, O. had five large Fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by U. C. Sprinkle, Druggist.

In pursuance of the terms of a deed of trust executed to me on the 24th day of February, 1891, by John Shannon and M. P. Shannon his wife, I shall on on the premises of the late John Shannon, offer to rent to the highest bidder, at public outcry, such bonndries of lands as are to be used for grazing purposes, or at least such bonndries as have not already been rented for cultivation. The bonndries which are to be rented consists of about 50 acres situate on the north side of the North Fork of Holston river and being a part of the 160 acre tract of land on which John Shannon lived, and also another bonndry of land consisting of about 200 acres which is only separated from the last named tract by the North Fork of Holston river and is situate on the south side of the river. These parcels of land will be rented separately and also as a whole, and the best bid accepted. The renter will be required to give bonds with approved security for the deferred payments, and the terms at which they will fall due will be made known on the day of renting. The right to impose restrictions on the renter is reserved, in order that the land may not be permanently injured, and if any restrictions are imposed they will be made known on the day of renting. Possession given on day of renting.

A. M. DICKENSON,
Trustee.

NOTICE

That on the 10th day of February, 1894, I shall offer for sale to the highest bidder, at public outcry, on the premises of the late John Shannon, all of the personal property of which John Shannon died seized and possessed, except such as the widow of John Shannon is entitled to under the law. The property to be sold consists of farming implements, hogs and such things as are usually found on the farm. The property will be sold on a credit of 12 months, except as to sums of less than five dollars, which will be for cash on day of sale. Also a lot of hogs will be sold for cash, unless a different arrangement is made on the day of sale.

James C. Buchanan,
Adm'r of John Shannon.

"Rock Me to Sleep Mother."

The poem "Rock Me to Sleep Mother" was written by Elizabeth Akers Allen, known otherwise as "Florence Percy." It is a general favorite for life. It is a gentle touch of home life. But there is another side to the picture. Many a mother rocks her child to sleep who can neither rest nor sleep herself. She is all ways tired, has an everlasting backache, is low spirited, weary, nervous and all that. Thanks be, she can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will do the work. There is nothing on earth like it, for the complaints to which the sex are liable. Guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case or money returned.

AUCTION BARGAINS.

To the People of Smyth and Adjoining Counties.

I have the pleasure to announce a new departure—the location of an agency in New York city for the purchase and selection of my stock of "racket" goods, which will enable me to quote much lower prices on this class of goods than others who buy on long time and ask big prices in these days of panic and hard times.

In another column will be found a few prices, and I most respectfully ask you to call and see these goods before making your purchases.

Next week I will give a full price list of these goods.

I will handle good goods and not trash. Come and see the goods that I will place you.

Public Meeting.

At a meeting of the citizens of Marion and vicinity held at the C. H. on Monday evening, Feb. 5, 1894, Judge A. P. Cole was made chairman and J. H. Francis secretary. The purpose of the meeting was explained by Rev. V. P. Anson, after which, on motion, a committee consisting of Rev. Dr. J. S. Kennedy, Rev. V. P. Anson and J. H. Gollehon, Esq., were appointed by the chairman to prepare and submit resolutions for the consideration of the meeting, and after a short time the committee, through Mr. Gollehon, presented the following resolutions, which were favorably advocated by Judge Fudge, Judge Miller, Dr. Kennedy, Rev. V. P. Anson, Rev. F. T. McFadden and others, after which the vote was taken and resulted unanimously for the adoption of the resolutions, as follows:

WHEREAS, there is a bill now pending before the General Assembly of Va., known as "Miller Local Option Bill"—and whereas the said bill has already passed the Senate—and whereas the citizens of Marion, Va., deeming the provisions of said bill iniquitous and detrimental to the best interests of the people of Va., therefore be it

Resolved 1st. That we the citizens of Marion in mass meeting assembled do most heartily endorse and approve of the action of Hon. B. F. Buchanan in voting against said bill.

Resolved 2. That it is the sense and desire of this meeting that our representative in the House, Judge Jno P. Sheffey, use his utmost endeavors to defeat the passage of the bill in the House.

Resolved 3. That we as citizens of the State of Virginia do hereby earnestly request and beseech the House of Delegates now sitting in the city of Richmond to refuse to pass the above said Miller bill in as much as we believe and feel that the passage of said bill would be a direct blow at free suffrage and an injury of the rights of our people and the welfare of society.

Resolved 4th. That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to our representatives in the Legislature, Messrs. Buchanan and Sheffey, and furnished the local papers and the Richmond Dispatch for publication.

On motion the meeting then adjourned.

A. P. COLE, Chairman.

J. H. FRANCIS, Secretary.

A Card

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the loving friends who so kindly assisted at my brother's funeral Jan. 24th, 1894. I have traveled through every State in the Union, and some of the territories, but fail to call to mind one instance where strangers treated me any better than in the little town of Marion, Va. May God send a shower of prosperity down among such loving people.

How to Prevent Diphtheria.

A scientific paper recently gave this prescription, which everybody should remember: At the first indication of diphtheria in the throat of a child mace the room close, then take a tin cup and pour into it a quantity of tar and turpentine, equal parts, then hold the cup over a fire so as to fill the room with the fumes. The patient on inhaling the fumes will cough and spit out the membranous matter and the diphtheria will pass off.
