with which is combined The Marion Democrat

I HAVE VOTED — HAVE YOU? tags were much in evidence Tuesday as Marion Jaycee members used that method of reminding people to go to the polls. Mrs. Bill Hubble, whose husband is president of the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce, is pinning such a card on Commonwealth's Attorney C. H. Funk. Tuesday's voting was called the heaviest in an off year election ever polled in Smyth County.

LIFE IN SMYTH COUNTY

Diabetes Clinic To Be Held

Smyth Doctors to Make Tests Nov. 15-21

Members of the Smyth County Medical Society are completing plans for the diabetes tests to be held throughout the county the week of Nov. 15-21. Doctors will arrange for specimen of urine to be left at various places throughout the county. They will run the tests and notify those whose tests are positive.

Those whose specimen show negative reports will not be notified.

The tests will be entirely free and are being made as a public service by the Smyth doctors. The local clinic will be a part of a nationwide drive conducted that week for early diagnosis of the disease.

Medical authorities say that diabetes can be controlled if there is an early diagnosis. Next week's paper will carry full details of the mechanics of the collection of specimen for the tests.

Both House Candidates Thank Smyth Citizens

W. Ray Rouse, successful candidate for the House of Delegates post in Smyth County Tuesday, this week thanked his supporters for his victory.

Mr. Rouse early Wednesday issued the following statement in regards to the race:

"Naturally I am glad to have won. I am profoundly grateful to my many friends in both parties for their splendid support. I have never needed friends more nor ever seemed to have more of them."

"It was a very strenuous campaign due to the vigor shown by my good friends who opposed me and the activity displayed by his supporters."

"Mr. Sclater has brought high honor to himself and credit to the Democrat Party by the fine campaign conducted by him. This campaign has been a fine thing for the county, since it brought many vital issues before the people and stimulated interest in the voting process. I believe if such a campaign came every two years that eventually a larger percentage of the adult population in Smyth county would be voting. Both parties mustered out scores of voters who had voted for their first time this year."

"I sincerely hope that Mr. Stanley will give serious consideration to the legislation which will eventually abolish the poll tax as a prerequisite to voting and further simplify the process by which new voters may be encouraged to exercise this sacred prerogative. The people of Virginia will certainly find me squarely behind any such moves."

"I am very happy about the majority I acquired, and it is even more than I expected after I had a chance to observe the vigor of the opposition. I soon learned that I had a bear by the tail and could not turn loose. If you have never taken hold of the north end of a south bound bear while he was headed down hill at full speed, and while you were wearing a pair of slick-soled shoes in the dry leaves, you are not qualified to sympathize with me in the final days of this campaign."

"Now it is all over, and I am humbly grateful to all my friends of both parties whom I expect to serve equally to the best of my ability for the next two years."

W. M. Sclater Jr., unsuccessful candidate for the Smyth County House of Delegates post, and Warren Wright, campaign manager for Sclater and Governor Elect Thomas B. Stanley, this Wednesday paid tribute to their supporters in the election Tuesday.

"We are indeed grateful to everyone who helped us in this race," the two stated. "We fully realized that we had a fight on our hands, and the results leave us well pleased."

"And the work by our many friends was gratifying in every respect, with a large number pitching in and assisting us in every way possible."

"Mr. Wright, who also managed Sclater's campaign, issued the following statement in regards to the election: "Although we lost the race in Smyth County, we have no regrets. We were beaten by a fine gentleman and will assist our House of Delegates representative, Ray Rouse, in any way possible during the coming General Assembly. We fully believe that he will do everything he possibly can in Richmond this year to help Smyth County, and our best wishes and wholehearted support go with him when the General Assembly convenes."

"We would like to take this opportunity to thank each and every citizen of Smyth County in keeping the race clean. As the time for election drew near, it looked like anybody's victory and the pace began to tell. Workers on both sides did everything possible to help their respective candidates. Naturally, nerves began to wear thin, and tired minds and bodies began yielding to the tendency to become jumpy and irritable. All concerned showed that they were gentlemen by keeping their heads and at no time doing anything which would bring discredit to our national heritage — free elections by a free people. We think that this was one of the greatest victories ever won for both sides and shows the entire world that democracy can work among civilized people. We are prouder of this one thing than any incident, and even though we lost, are proud of the fact that we were privileged to take part in such an election."

"We sincerely thank each and everyone who cast their votes for our candidates and sincerely promise that we will try in the future to continue making citizens of Smyth County proud of the fact that they live in a community where the two party system really works, without friction or ill feelings. We loved the good, clean scrap and hope to take part in many, many more of the same type and anticipating a victory or so in the future."

Robertson Is Given Three Years in Pen

Guilty Plea Is Entered Monday

Harry Bernard Robertson this Monday suddenly pled guilty to forgery and was given three years in the penitentiary by Judge Thomas Hutton in Circuit Court at Marion.

Robertson, who has been in and out of jails all of his adult life, was charged with giving a forged check to the Parks Belk Department Store in Marion back in 1949. Just prior to that time he was released from the state pen, where he worked in the print shop, printing state checks. The check given the store was a payroll check for the state, and theory is that he stole one of these checks while in the pen.

The 47 year old man recently was released from federal authorities after serving time in Fort Leavenworth for bank robbery. More than $100,000 taken in the bold robbery has never been recovered, officers state.

Earnest Sheets Wednesday in court pled guilty to an attempted sex offense involving a young boy. He was given 12 months, with probable probation.

The other three cases of the day concerned juveniles — all three boys being charged with breaking into places of business and stealing.

A Marion youth pled guilty to breaking into Marion Vance Company with another youngster last August. Four rifles, a large amount of ammunition, two hunting knives and a watch were stolen, all recovered except some of the ammunition.

It was the boy's second offense.

Rouse Goes Back to House As Smyth County Delegate

McKee Named Virginia's Top Practitioner

Longtime Saltville Doctor Honored by Doctors

Dr. Thomas K. McKee, Saltville, was recently named the top practitioner of the year for the state of Virginia.

Dr. McKee was first nominated for the general practitioner of the year by the Southwest Virginia Medical Society. When the Medical Society of Virginia met in Roanoke Oct. 20, he was nominated as general practitioner of the State of Virginia.

The American Medical Association will meet in San Francisco, Calif., next June at which time Dr. McKee's name, along with those from the other states, will be presented for consideration for the award of the national practitioner of the year.

All states will be represented at the meeting next June, according to Dr. McKee.

Starting his practice some 50 odd years ago, Dr. McKee has stayed by his belief that the doctor should be a good family doctor, and he has remained such. Dr. McKee started his practice at St. Clair's Bottom and in 1912, moved to Saltville, where he started as the company doctor for Mathieson. He retired from that position last year but still has his private practice.

The issue had been decided, however, when the 329 for Rouse to 211 for Sclater Saltville report was received. Democrats at Marion Municipal Building and Republicans at the courthouse clearly saw the Rouse victory at that point.

Voting was brisk throughout the clear, sunny day. Workers on both sides were at many polling places, and every effort was made by both sides to secure last minute votes.

Late in the afternoon the pace began to tell on both candidates, working at the Marion polls. They appeared tired and slightly frayed around the edges after a long, hard campaign.

The Republican trend was apparent throughout the Smyth voting.

Ted Dalton defeated Thomas B. Stanley, 2,750 to 2,147 in the chase for the governor's post. Stephen Timberlake, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, racked up a 2,607 to 2,430 victory over A. E. S. Stephens. And Walter E. Hoffman came out on the big end of a 2,535 to 2,305 score against J. Lindsey Almond in the attorney general's race. All these Republicans, however, were snowed under in the state chase by the strong, well organized Democratic machine which demonstrated unbeatable power in the Tuesday voting.

There were no reported election day incidents to mar the day in Smyth. Local candidates set the pace in keeping the race clean and free of mud-slinging, the two throughout the race asking their backers to do nothing which would bring about any unpleasant relations.

Merry Christmas signs will be installed again at each end of Main Street, and some new designs have been ordered to supplement the plastic red reindeer, say Retail Trades Committee members.

The art classes have placed posters on the school bulletin boards and in the windows of many downtown merchants, and the Distributive Education class has arranged special window displays in four of the windows.

At the Marion Elementary Schools each classroom plans to stress one or more of the special aspects of education selected for the yearly observance. The schools will welcome visits during this week, says Howard Williams. Each parent has a special invitation to visit the Marion Intermediate School Wednesday and the Marion Grammar School Thursday.

Community Chest Drive in Marion Receives $8,000

Marion's Community Chest has reached only $8,000 this Thursday morning, Chairman Thad Harris, states.

With very few reports yet to come in, he now fears that the drive may end $1,500 or $2,000 short of the $9,963 goal. Anyone who has not been solicited is urged to send in a contribution immediately. This year's budget contained only $500 for the contingency fund so a failure to reach $9,963 will really hurt.

Mr. Harris praised especially the work of Theron Broady and his team who secured bigger gifts this year from colored citizens. The Junior Woman's Club also managed to raise more in the residential canvas.

fense, and sentence was deferred pending an investigation by the probation officer. The other youth has been probated it being his first time to get into trouble.

Two other youths, one from Meadowview and the other from Poore Valley, pled guilty to breaking into Mathieson General Store in Saltville. They were given two years each and were turned over to the probation officer for study and possible probation.

Judge Hutton told the fathers of the two boys that he should be sentencing them instead of the youths. "I have a son about the age of these boys, and it really hurts me to sentence them," he said. "I always feel bad when forced to do so. I hope that they can be probated and sent back home. If they are, I am going to instruct the Washington and Smyth County Commonwealth's Attorneys to take out warrants for neglect of children if you two men fail to keep your boys and see that they are going straight."

Commonwealth's Attorney C. H. Funk also expressed concern about the juveniles giving trouble.

In asking the judge for possible probation for the three youths he said that it is unfortunate that the "State of Virginia does not have better facilities for such cases. But we do not have such facilities and must do the best with what we have."

No action was taken on charges against Gordon Ellison of setting fire to fodder and corn belonging to Mrs. Oscar Copenhaver Oct. 2. After Dr. J. J. Eller had testified that the man is feeble minded, with ability to think about like a six or seven year old, it was decided to refer his case to a commission of three doctors for report.

Youth Sells Governor A Membership

Billy Johnston, 10, of Marion sold the Governor of Virginia, John S. Battle, his fourth straight membership in the Marion Parents-Teachers Association.

In 1950 Billy was out selling the memberships when he spotted the late Preston Collins. Billy asked Mr. Collins to buy one and after buying one he told Billy to sell the other man one. Unknowingly Billy sold his first membership to Governor Battle.

Each following year Billy writes to Governor Battle and sells another membership in the Marion P.T.A.

This year Billy requested a picture of the Governor, and one was promptly sent.

Billy has sold the most membership cards in the last three years for both the Marion Grammar and Marion Elementary Schools. He said this week that he hoped to sell a membership to the new governor, Thomas Stanley. He said that if he could, he intended to sell one to President Eisenhower also.

Billy lives at 115 North Park Street and is the son of Mrs. Lore Lee Johnston.

Carner Traces History Of Pendleton Chapel School

By Clara Hill Carner

Not until someone is asked to write an article about an old landmark is it realized that many of those who could have given the desired information have passed away.

This holds true in the case of the Pendleton Chapel School, an old landmark the memory of which is held dear in the hearts and has influenced the lives of the Hook's Branch section. It, too, has passed away.

After the town of Marion had gone through and was quieting down from the soap, candles and glycerin pains of another Halloween festival and street parade, the fire siren shrieked out its two deafening blasts about four o'clock Sunday morning, and the Pendleton Chapel School made its final debut and ran down the curtain on its material existence but not on its imprint and enrichment of the many homes that came under its influence.

This building has served the citizens of the Hook's Branch community, sometimes called Shootin' Creek, but known to-day as Matson Drive, in a triple manner — as school, church and community center.

Due to pressure of time, I have not had access to records that probably could have given added information. The major portion has been gleaned by word-of-mouth from a few of the older residents of that community and a few of the former teachers.

As to the beginning of the Pendleton Chapel School, I have secured the following information from J. O. Overbey of Matson Drive, who is 64 years of age.

Sixty years ago through the influence of the Rev. Vernon T'Anson, pastor of the Marion Baptist Church who did not confine his religious interests to his own pastorate but who had the missionary spirit and saw the felt-need of the Hook's Branch community for a building in which their children could be versed in the Three R's and all could feed their souls with the spirit of God, a one-room building was erected on land that is now the road in front of the present school site.

This land was obtained from the owners, John S. Copenhaver, Ed Copenhaver and Dr. John S. Apperson, whether as a donation or a purchase, Mr. Overbey does not recall.

From 1892-1896, Major Albert G. Pendleton, an officer in the Confederate Army during the War Between the States, was superintendent of Smyth County Schools. However, he had served two terms previously, from 1880-1889. It was due to the high esteem in which the people of this community held Major Pendleton that their new building was called Pendleton Chapel School.

In 1914 another room was added. These two rooms served until 1923, when the Parent Teacher Association proposed to the school board that they would match funds to enlarge the building.

Up until this time, the two rooms could not accommodate the school enrollment; therefore a two-room cottage owned by the Shulers which stood on the present site was remodeled into one room in which the primary pupils were taught.

The only court record about which I have been able to learn is contained in Deed Book 50, page 298 in the Smyth County clerk's office which states that Clyde Shuler and William Shuler, her husband, sold a certain house and lot on Hook's Branch, July 5, 1923, to the Smyth County School Board composed of F. L. Sanders, T. E. George and D. D. Cole for the sum of $625 cash, this being the same property as conveyed by Viola E. Wolfe and husband to the Shulers on Aug. 17, 1920.

It was then in 1923 that the original two room building was moved onto the Shuler lot — the present site. A new room was added, and the small Shuler cottage was torn down.

Many of Smyth County's fine and capable teachers have taught in this school. It would be impossible to name all of them and enumerate the outstanding things they did during their tenure.

It was in 1923 that Miss Ruth Caudill, now Mrs. B. H. Griffiths, came into the county school system as her first year in the teaching profession.

Mrs. Griffiths tells of a rich experience the three years she was principal. During her first year, there were about 135 pupils enrolled. Her assistant, Miss Marie Scott, now Mrs. J. L. Ward, who was having her first experience, had 90 primary pupils enrolled on a half day basis.

Miss Rhoda Clark became the third teacher. This occurred during the superintendency of B. E. Copenhaver.

During these three years there was a very active PTA. The patrons and friends of the school put forth every effort to make it a success. Electric lights were installed.

The box suppers, pie suppers, programs of different kinds, and Christmas entertainments not only were an avenue to raise funds but furnished entertainment for those suffering from social-hunger.

Among the many interesting episodes that Mrs. Griffiths relates is how she and Miss Clark went to a home up on the mountain where a family of six children, ranging in age from 6 to 16, had never attended school. They convinced the parents as to the necessity of having their brood in school, so all came and were in the first grade where each one learned to read and write.

After a lapse of some years, until 1943 when R. M. Buchanan was school superintendent, Mrs. Griffiths, in order to help out in the teacher shortage, taught again a few years at Pendleton Chapel School.

A lunchroom was built during this period. But previous to the building of this room, a hot lunch system was inaugurated. The menu was prepared in class as a part of the health lessons. The food was cooked on a hot plate, which the PTA purchased.

A piano was also purchased. With the new elementary school being built in Marion, the pupils from Pendleton Chapel School are being transported to this new building.

In the role of a church for the Hook's Branch community, different denominations would conduct Sunday School, prayer meetings, preaching services, and revivals. The Sunday School was conducted on Sunday afternoons and the prayer meetings on Thursday nights so as not to conflict with the churches services in town.

Besides the Rev. T'Anson holding services there, the Rev. J. T. Aker began preaching there when he was about 17 years of age. At one time, according to a statement by one of the older residents up there, he conducted a meeting for six weeks.

Members from the different Marion churches would go up there to assist with the services. James Jones was superintendent of the Sunday School. Among others who assisted were Charlie H. Carper and Robert L. White. Mormon elders also held meetings.

The influence of both teachers and preachers at this old landmark reaches out into the warp and woof of the lives of grandparents, parents and children of this community.

Then on the morning of All Saints' Day, Sunday, Nov. 1, Pendleton Chapel School gave up the ghost in a blaze of glory.

Drought Meeting To Be Held Here

Aids to meet the feed emergency caused by the drought will be outlined by VPI Agricultural Extension Service specialists at a meeting to be held Friday, Nov. 13, at 7:30 p. m. at the Courthouse.

H. B. Eller, Smyth County agent, urges all farmers to attend.

W. H. Daughtrey, associate director of the service, says livestock and dairy farmers are faced with a serious problem, and "research information is available that will help them meet this emergency."

Daughtrey states that specialists from the animal husbandry, dairy husbandry and agronomy departments have cancelled many of their "business and usual" activities, and will attend each of the series meeting.

Farmers and others attending the meetings will hear talks on how to conserve and make the best use of available feed, feeding and management practices to get livestock through the winter with a minimum roughage, methods of balancing rations with low quality and limited quantity roughage and feed production — when the rains come — including mixtures to plant for early grazing, early spring hay crops, drought insurance system of forage production for next year, and fertilization practices.

COMMUNITY CENTER HALLOWEEN PARTY

was attended by between 600 and 700 people, who enjoyed various games and contests. Marion townspeople have been lavish in their praise for the good behavior of goblins and spooks out on the town. Little damage has been reported, with most of the youngsters being content to "trick or treat" with many treats being given out by Smyth citizens. The usual sign that the residents of the house were treating was a lighted front entrance.

LOOK WHERE I AM!

Kittens turn up in the oddest places. It's no wonder—for a kitten will try anything once. And sooner or later curiosity kills many a cat!

Some people have a penchant for trying anything once. Occasionally it leads them to the pinnacles of success. More often it leaves them in the depths of despair.

Neither curiosity nor daring is the high-road to happiness. Life's richest rewards are for those who choose paths tried and true... who seek goals which the greatest were bold to attain.

No surer paths have ever been trod than the "paths of righteousness" of which the Psalmist spoke. No higher goals were ever achieved than those Jesus Christ made his own.

The Church points the highroad to happiness for men who are willing to try Christ's Way... not once... BUT ALWAYS!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SPEED ALLEY

Highway 11 on the outskirts of Marion, going east, has been the scene of four major wrecks within the past few weeks. Two people have lost their lives, and several have been seriously injured.

Just as the highway leaves the town limits, there is a straight stretch of road, downhill, which is enticing to those who are inclined to let their foot rest a little heavy on the accelerator. The trouble is, traffic at this point is just as heavy, if not heavier, than much of the highway going on through Marion. There is a constant stream of vehicles at this point, and speeding is dangerous.

Most of the citizens of Smyth know this, and a large majority act accordingly. But many of our speeders take the attitude that "it won't happen to me" and take chances. Visitors, thinking that they are out of the congested area, speed up, anxious to get on their way.

The result is a steady stream of wrecks and near wrecks. Grass along the shoulders does not have a chance as screaming tires of vehicles taking to the edges of the road to avoid a wreck wear it thinner than a race-track.

There is only one way to stop this. Huge signs should be placed along this strip proclaiming to the public that this is a 35 mile per hour zone. And diligence on the part of the police, coupled with a jail sentence or so for those who flagrantly disregard the signs, would go a long way in halting this speeding and needless bloodshed.

Fines and suspended sentences apparently are not doing the job. Thirty days to us would be worth far less than broken bodies and bereaved families.

FARM MARKET

Southwest Virginia potentially is one of the best spots in Virginia for summer vegetable growing and year round poultry and dairy products.

There is one big factor holding us back in developing this plan. Most farmers of this section have only a small market for their produce and must depend upon the local market for the selling of what they grow.

A well organized farm market and truckers center is needed. We definitely have the climate, soil and rainfall for the growing of these crops. And a look at the map will reveal that we are near not only many large industrial centers of population, the coal fields and the large cities along the eastern coast, but also earlier crop area not too far south and southwest.

Marion easily could become the center for such a market. The completion of Highway 16 will open up a north-south market which will give us easy access to many new areas. Highway 11 is the one and only main east-west, highway through this section.

We have in mind a similar project which has developed into a multi-million dollar business within the past few years. Not too many years ago a small market was started in Columbia, S. C. Today it is one of the biggest markets of its kind in the country, business there probably totaling more than the combined retail business of Smyth County each year.

Florida truckers by the hundreds, each month bring in produce, especially citrus fruits, which is distributed throughout that section.

Instead of making the drive back empty, they load up with mountain beans, tomatoes from eastern Virginia and North Carolina and other produce out of season in Florida.

Truckers from New Jersey and up that way bring in cranberries, potatoes and such, dropping off their loads and picking up produce in season from that area.

Numerous farmers for miles around, discovering that they had a new market where produce could be disposed of without any trouble, began picking up extra cash by growing crops which were in demand. Just a few years ago these were extra cash crops, something to be given to the teen age children as a project. Today, in many cases, this type crop is the main source of income.

In addition there are many retail stalls where the farmer can bring in small amounts of produce and sell himself. Before leaving town he spends this cash with retail merchants of the city. Everything from a home baked cake to hay and corn can be purchased at these stalls.

Something of this type is needed in this section and Marion, in the center of the Mountain Empire, is the logical place for such a venture. We fully realize that there will be seasons when the farmers will not realize too much on their crops, and truckers will be hard put to sell at any price the produce he picks up.

That is to be expected. And it cannot be much worse than the beef cattle market has been this year.

FISHING LICENSES

Southwest Virginians for many months have been working on securing special three day permits for out-of-state visitors who might desire to fish in our impounded waters.

The present law requires them to purchase a $10 season license, even though they are here just a few days. The result is that we have lost a large tourist revenue to Tennessee, where the $1 three day permit can be secured.

Recent action by the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries indicates that this $1 special permit will become available in Virginia. The commission went on record as favoring such, following a visit to Richmond by a group of Southwest Virginians.

Senator George Warren of Bristol steered the action of the committee. He has been active for some months in the project and went to Richmond, even though sick, to help put his weight behind the job.

The Virginia State Chamber of Commerce joined the fight. This organization is doing a bang up job in promoting tourist trade in Virginia and will do more, with just a little assistance from other interested groups.

The Virginia State Grange, a farmer's organization of note, meeting in Richmond at the same time of the public hearings, next threw its weight behind the project, passing a resolution calling for a special three day permit. This helped greatly.

The Marion Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the organizational meeting for the Richmond trip, and the Pulaski Chamber of Commerce also joined the growing group seeking this permit.

Numerous individuals also worked on the project. It has long been the contention of this newspaper that such a permit would be of great benefit to Southwest Virginia. To all those who helped we say, "Thanks, fellows. Your efforts are deeply appreciated."

DIABETIC CLINIC

Smyth County doctors will hold a diabetic clinic the week of November 15, at which time every citizen of the county will be invited to get a free diagnosis of whether or not he or she has the disease.

From nationwide figures there probably are numerous people of Smyth who have the disease and do not know it. Recently we were given a booklet on the disease, and it was surprising the number of cases which crop up, in its advanced stages, each year. If many of these cases had been correctly diagnosed in early stages, the results would have been much more pleasant.

The Smyth County Medical Society is going to a great expense to conduct this clinic. Doctors of the county are donating their times and efforts to the huge job of testing all who desire such a check.

The clinic is on a voluntary basis, with little trouble for the general public. It is a free — a new gimmick today. The doctors are offering us this favor. They are preparing to run tests on at least 10,000. Let's not disappoint them.

Other Folks' Ideas

STRESS THE IMPORTANT

(The Galax Gazette)

A statement made by Dr. B. Throckmorton Tally, Albermarle, N. C., in commenting recently concerning the national scarcity of primary and high school teachers, seems to us to be most timely and one that should be given much consideration by all of our citizens and school authorities. Dr. Tally made the following statement:

"Teaching in public schools must put the emphasis on the American History wrought by our forefathers, and left to us as a heritage to carry on."

With this we heartily agree. We are confident that most thinking people are aware that the study of the glorious history of America's past has been given less and less emphasis in the curricula of our public schools in recent years. We think that something should be done very soon to see that those who have the responsibility for the preparation of the textbooks for our children to study put the emphasis back where it once was insofar as the history of both our state and nation is concerned, and then keep it there.

Patrick Henry, one of Virginia's own illustrious statesmen, steps forth himself, as it were, from the very pages of history, with his oft-quoted and illuminating statement:

"I have but one lamp by which my feet are guided, and that is the lamp of experience."

Yes, it was a long time ago when Patrick Henry said this, but the words still serve splendidly to counter the statement that we hear sometimes today, even from some persons who are supposed to be educated, that what took place "back in those days, over a hundred years ago," is of no importance, and "why should I bother about what they did away back then?" Of course as all who are really educated already know, just as Patrick Henry so well knew, the history of the past is vastly important. A fact of history never changes, and since it was true in Patrick Henry's day, it is true today and will be just as true tomorrow.

Therefore, we should see that our children have an opportunity to learn in our public schools about the things that have made our nation great, and we, as parents and friends of the students of our schools, should encourage them in every way we can to realize that any history lesson they may have is very important indeed, and try to inculcate in them a liking for the study, both in and out of school, of things that have to do with history and government, for these things affect them every day of their lives.

It has been said that "the truth shall make you free." If we know history we shall know the truth about our state and nation. If we are free we shall know liberty and its meaning and something of how to work to perpetuate liberty and all that it means to us. And then we come to something else that Patrick Henry said: "Give me liberty, or give me death."

About two years ago a poll, taken in high schools in some of the largest American cities, showed the students knew practically nothing about the Declaration of Independence, Bill of Rights, or our Constitution.

Every child in the Fifth or Sixth grades should know at least something about these basic fundamental facts of our very existence as a nation.

Smyth County Speaks

Marion, Va.
Nov. 2, 1953

Dear Editor:

While at the welfare department office last week, I happened to see a letter on the superintendent's desk, to which was attached two snapshots, showing two happy looking youngsters — one a girl in her early teens and the other a boy probably around 10 or 11. I am sorry that the law would not permit you to publish the photos, but, with names deleted, I am quoting the letter to which the photos were attached.

"Remember these babies we got from you folks years ago? You can see from their recent photos that they're not babies any more — and I have it in mind that we can bring up another child even better than the other two. Would you and the staff locate another infant for us? Have you any prospects? Let us hear from you, if you please.

Yours sincerely,
Every now and then, when I get to feeling that welfare department work is rather futile, something like this comes along to restore my belief that the expenditure is worth while. I feel that if only two children are salvaged, the whole program is justified, and think of the foster parents who have so apparently well raised the two and now want to take a third!

Sincerely,
Henry Durschmidt,

Mr. Editor:

If you will allow space in your paper I will write a few lines concerning the sinful liquor traffic:

Of all the crimes that ever has been the selling and making of liquor is the greatest sin. It has caused more misery, pain and woe than anything in the world I know. Get out of the way, you liquor seller, you have ruined a many of a clever fellow. You have caused the father to whip the child, and caused the mother to go almost wild. And at your drunken spree at night, you sometimes put them all to flight. And when your time has come to die the Lord will call you to the sky. And you will remember very well; you may not fare so well. If any one lacks understanding as to the character of beverage alcohol, let him examine the passage of scripture Proverbs 23rd. Chapter, 29-35 verses. Let us single out some of the words that appear in the verses. "Woe — sorrow — contentions — babbling — wounds — redness of eyes." What a picture! What a revelation! Another word ought to be on every heart, "At the last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder." The effect it has on men of the state, it causes them to forget the law and pervert the judgment of our citizens.

Fellow citizens, we ought not to vote for any candidate for governor, for the legislature who will not fight for the prohibition of the sinful liquor traffic. It is not uncommon to see women, wives, and mothers presiding over the cash registers of the liquor stores. We are told in many of our larger cities, almost as many women as men, frequent the public bars for occasional drink.

There are more young women serving as barmaids it is said than there are girls in college. Isaiah 5th Chapter, 13 verse, "Therefore my people are gone into captivity because they have no knowledge; and their honorable men are famished and their multitudes dried up with thirst. Deuteronomy, 6th Chapter, 4 and 5 verses, "God said to Israel, 'Hear O Israel; The Lord our God is one Lord; And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might". In this machine age of the world it is the duty of the United States to obey God if we want God to help us fight our battles. As long as we have a man-made law allowing the sale of liquor we are putting the cup to our neighbor's lips. It has been stated that one hundred thousand die annually from the effects of alcohol. It causes fear, grief and worry.

Mr. James F. Tindall, Editor, The Smyth County News, Marion, Va.

Dear Mr. Tindall,

Possibly you might wish to carry the item appended below. I believe you may also be interested in a news release which I understand will be made from Burlington, Vermont, on Tuesday, November 16. It is being requested that your name be carried in distribution of that item.

You probably noted the substitution of $1.50 for the original $1 proposal to cover the limited fishing permit. One of our folks advocated the larger figure, which I considered to be a minor item, inasmuch as the major objective of a special licensing procedure was complied with. In order to get quick action I went along with the alternative proposal. It is gratifying to have favorable action indicated by Quinn. As long as the proposition is not allowed to die before action by the Legislature we ought to get the desired result.

I had the same feeling you experience on seeing the Southwest Virginia area left out of statewide items when I noted that you credited several organizations as having swung their weight behind the fishing license movement, but left out the State Grange.

Sincerely,
Z. M. K. Fulton Jr.
Master, The Virginia State Grange.

(Editors Note: Our faces are plenty red. The fishing license story broke late last week, and the story was written without benefit of notes or background material in order to get it in the paper. A very, very poor memory — we will put ours up with the worst — resulted in our completely omitting the Virginia State Grange as helping in getting the special license on its way. We apologize and sincerely hope, that this apology be accepted by all Grange members. They did a good job).

Farm Notes

H. B. ELLER

A two day land appreciation school will be held in Smyth County Nov. 9 and 10. The first day, will be for all professional workers; the second day will be open to the public and all interested farmers.

The school will open at 10 a. m. on both mornings at the Courthouse in Marion. Both afternoon sessions will consist of field work. The group will assemble at 1 p. m. Monday and Tuesday on the Francis Copenhaver dairy farm located just east of the Skyview Drive Theatre.

Land appreciation schools are designed to give the participants an appreciation of the need to classify land according to its ability to produce. From such a classification each kind of land may be best treated and used to keep it permanently productive without damage to the land.

Participants in these schools are taught to appreciate the fact that soils are not all alike. Some soils are good; some are poor. Some soils may be used for row crops while others should be used as pastures, woodland and wild life. The effective depth of soil, texture, permeability slope and other factors determine the proper use of the land or its capability and that his classification is the key to using and treating land properly.

The land appreciation school, should be thought of as a teaching and demonstration method. The intention of the land appreciation school is not to make a soil scientist out of a farmer in one lesson. It will help participants appreciate the proper care of land, and it will also teach them many phases of land use and other recommended practices that have a practical application of the farmer's own farms. Land appreciation schools will also aid in bringing about a better understanding and more uniformity in the recommendations of all professional agricultural workers.

For a real bargain — get a real truck!

SURE, you can save a few dollars now on a truck price-tagged slightly less than a GMC. But if you want a bargain that will still be a bargain after years of hard truck-work, ask these questions before you buy:

Does the truck give you a GMC's 105 H.P.? That's up to 19% more power than comparable sixes. It hustles a GMC's top loads up tough pulls—without engine strain.

Does it have a GMC's 8.0 to 1 super-high-compression? That gives you quicker getaways—more drive—better mileage. All on regular gas.

Does it offer a GMC's engine- and driver-sparing

Truck Hydra-Matic*? With it, you say good-bye to gearshift wrestling. No more clutch repairs. Maintenance costs shrink.

Does it have the extra protection of a GMC's self-energizing brakes? The extra comfort of a GMC's "Six-Footer" cab? The handling ease of a GMC's ball-bearing steering action?

If all the answers are "yes," you have a real bargain—a GMC. And there are 19 handsome ½- to 1-ton models to choose from. How can you lose?

Saltville Will Face Richlands in Top District Tilt

Top Teams In District Are Undefeated

The undefeated Saltville Shakers will clash with the Richlands Blue Tornado at the Saltville ball park this Friday night in a tilt that may completely change the standings of the district and decide who will play Big Stone Gap in District Eight.

The game will be preceded by a parade, which will consist of about 18 floats from the business firms and many floats from the school. The Richlands band and the Saltville Shaker band will also help start the evening's events.

At present the Shakers have chalked up six victories against seven for Richlands. In their quest for the district crown Richlands has topped Grundy, 12-0; Rich Valley 20-0; Tazewell, 24-0; Marion, 13-0; Bristol, 26-7; Graham, 28-0 and Pocahontas, 12-7. Richlands has beaten one other team in a non-district game in the early part of the season.

The Shakers have knocked out Abingdon, 20-0; Marion, 41-6; Chilhowie, 12-7; Lebanon, 49-19; Bristol, 20-6, and Graham, 26-7.

Last year the Shakers won eight games and dropped only two. Richlands topped the Shakers in a 19-12 contest, and the Mighty Midgets of Abingdon ruined the hopes of the Shakers of facing the Black Raiders of Norton in a 14-0 tilt.

The winner of this game will play the champion of District Eight. The Big Stone Gap eleven have clinched their district crown.

Shakers Take Marion For 41-6 Victory

In a renewal of the old rivalry the Saltville Shakers completely outplayed the visiting Scaplet Hurricane of Marion in a 41 to 6 topsy-turvy football game last Friday night at Saltville before about 2,000 fans.

Sparked by the fleet Johnny "Notchle" Cregger, the Shakers grabbed an early lead, which prevailed throughout the game. The first Shaker tally came early in the first period capping a 55 yard drive. Alvin Colley raced to pay dirt from 15 yards out. The conversion was made by Floyd Lawrence.

The second Shaker tally came four plays later when Marion was forced to kick and Johnny Cregger scampered 75 yards to the end zone. Lawrence made the conversion giving the Shakers a 14-0 lead.

A few plays later Cregger again moved 71 yards on a punt return to the glory pay dirt. Lawrence again kicked the conversion.

In the first minutes of the second period Cregger returned another Marion punt 82 yards to the fourth Shaker tally. Lawrence made the conversion.

After the Saltville kick to Marion, the Hurricane again bogged down and was forced to kick. The kick by Query went out of bounds on the Saltville three yard line and two plays later Colley raced around end to scamper 97 yards to score. Lawrence made the conversion.

At half time the undefeated Saltville Shakers held on to a 35 to 0 lead over the Hurricane of Marion.

The lone Marion score capped a drive that started on the Marion 35 yard line. Marion moved up to the Saltville three yard line by runs of Query and Thompson, and a handoff by Stephenson was fumbled and recovered by Jack McCready of Marion for the score. The try for the conversion was missed.

On Marion's return kick Percy Lee moved over 52 yards for Marion territory to score but a flag on the play nullified the tally.

The final Shaker tally came in the fourth period when a long pass to Jerry Shipp connected for a play that covered about 65 yards. The try for the conversion was missed.

Scoring, Saltville: Colley 2, Cregger 3, Shipp, Conversions, Lawrence 5. Marion, McCready.

Steers Stop Warriors For 28-7 Victory

The Rich Valley Steers chalked up their second win by rolling over the Chilhowie Warriors at the Saltville ball park Saturday night in a 28-7 contest.

Tom Bise lead the spirited Steers to remain seventh place, one jump ahead of the Warriors.

The first score came in the opening minutes of the first quarter after Thomas Bise raced across to pay dirt from 15 yards out. Don Carter added the conversion with a line plunge.

In the second period the Rich Valley Steers enlarged their lead when Gerald Henderson scampered across from eight yards out, and Tom Bise added the conversion with another line plunge. Minutes later Bise passed to Jack Fullen for the third Rich Valley tally. The play covered about 15 yards. Bise bucked the line for the conversion.

At the end of the first half the Steers were riding out in front with a 21-0 lead.

Basketball Plans Are Made

The football season, with only a few important games remaining to be played, is drawing to a close and most schools in the county are trying to outfit good basketball teams.

RICH VALLEY has not started practice; however plans are being made for the start in the near future. Coach Mark Dunham has already scheduled most of the games for the season. The remaining games will be filled with Glade Spring and a few other schools. He stated this week that practice will start in about one more week, giving the football season time to move out. Dunham hopes to have about 25 boys out and about 30 or 40 girls to come out. The girls' practice will be held earlier than the boys.

The schedule for Rich Valley is:

- Dec. 8 open.
- Dec. 11 Pocahontas, away.
- Dec. 15 open.
- Jan. 8 open.
- Jan. 12 Abingdon, home.
- Jan. 15, Chilhowie, away.
- Jan. 22, Saltville, home.
- Jan. 26 open.
- Jan. 29, Marion, home.
- Feb. 2, Chilhowie, home.

- Feb. 9 open.
- Feb. 12, Saltville, away.
- Feb. 16, open.
- Feb. 19, Marion, away.
- Feb. 23, open.
- Feb. 26, Pocahontas, home.

MARION started its practice this week and had a turnout of about 35 boys. Coach Charles Franzen hopes to have a larger number after the football season is ended next week end. Those returning from last year will be Bob Reedy, Morris Stephenson, Jimmy Boone, Fred Query, Dickie Williams and Ronnie Cox. No definite pattern has been set up as of now. Franzen stated that Marion would lack the height that helped the big team last year. Charles Cooper and Paul Fleming will be helping with the junior varsity, and Jack Musten will be giving his services to help build the Marion team.

The Marion schedule is:

- Dec. 4 open.
- Dec. 8, Chilhowie, home.
- Dec. 11, Abingdon, away.
- Dec. 15, Graham, away.
- Dec. 17, Richlands, home.

- Feb. 16, Abingdon, away.
- Feb. 19, Rich Valley, home.
- Feb. 23, Tazewell, away.
- Feb. 26, open.

Coach Franzen hopes to fill the open dates with other schools and Emory and Henry.

SALTVILLE will be trying to improve the record that it set up last year. Coach Northern will be the new coach and will have the entire team from last year.

The practice sessions will probably begin around November 23. The Shaker football season ends November 20 with Rich Valley.

The Shaker schedule is:

- Dec. 11, Castlewood, home.
- Dec. 15, Chilhowie, away.
- Dec. 18, Cleveland, away.
- Jan. 5, open.
- Jan. 8, Abingdon, home.

OUTDOORS IN SMYTH

Now that the hunting ban west of the Blue Ridge has been lifted everyone will be preparing for the deer season, which opens November 16 and runs through November 21.

This year the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries is making efforts to learn more about the age and weight of the deer in order to better manage the growing herds of deer. There will be a station technician at the Texaco Station in Sugar Grove on November 16, 17, 18 and 21 to tell the sportsman the age, weight and body and antler development of the deer that he kills. This is a special station in addition to the other checking stations throughout the county.

With the help of the sportsmen of the county it is hoped to learn how to regulate the future deer seasons and manage the herds of deer. It is required by law that the deer be checked at one of the many stations, and if it is possible to check at the special station the Commission urges hunters to do so.

Fox season opens November 16 along with the deer season. The fox season will close January 1.

Bear season will also open November 16 and close January 1.

THE OUTLOOK

MARION will be seeking its second win of the season when the team faces one of the tougher teams in the district Friday night at the new stadium. Thus far this season Pocahontas has won five games and dropped only one game. This loss was to Richlands in a 12-7 contest. The Hurricane will be hard pressed because of the loss of the services of John Lindsey, Marion's big full-back. Lindsey is suffering from an injured knee and did not play in the Saltville game. Marion's standings are now one win and five losses.

CHILHOWIE will meet Lansing, N. C., in a non-district tilt that will end the season for the Warriors. The Warriors will be trying to even their standings at three wins, three losses and one tie. The Lansing team was defeated by Damascus. The Warriors defeated Meadowview 19-7, and the Meadowview eleven defeated the Damascus boys 6-0. If you go by the comparative score the Warriors have an edge over Lansing.

It now seems that with two or three more important week ends remaining in the football season that most of the schools of the county have turned to basketball.

Marion will be trying to put forth another championship team; however most of the height that helped the Hurricane last year will be gone from the ranks. Saltville will have a change of coaches, and Northern will be trying to boost the five game win last year to a greater number this year. Chilhowie will have a change of coaches this year, and Rich Valley will be spirited by Mark Dunham.

The Industrial League will meet sometime around the middle of the month to decide the outcome for this year. Last year the league was not too successful, however it is hoped that this can be smoothed over to carry on a good league. There are about two or three new teams hoping to enter the league this year.

In the Appalachian League, Bristol was granted extra time to decide whether or not they will fold. This will give Marion some time to decide between the Appalachian League and the Burley Belt League.

LET'S STOP HERE could be the comment of Doug Cannon of the Shakers as he helped stop the drive Hugh Severt made in the game at Saltville Friday night. Bill Williams is the Marion player to the left, and Eddie Holmes is the Shaker player to the right. Saltville won the game 41-6.

in the county."
 Harve stated that W. P. Francis lived where the Royal Oak apartments are now, and at the spot where the Collins store now is was a place called Bill Moore's Shoe Shop. The courthouse was a red hand made brick building. On one side of the building was the Judge's office, and on the other side was a small office for the lawyer, a Mr. Fillmore.
 Harve was born in 1884 on Rt. 2 on a small country farm on the Scratch Gravel Road. He attended school at a one room school, which has since been destroyed, known as the DeBord School.
 Mr. Powell was married to Grace Eller DeBord in November of 1904. They have three daughters, Mrs. W. J. Andrews of Marion; Mrs. Josephine Carter of Oak Ridge, Tenn.; and Mrs. Jerome Bailey of Kingston, Tenn. Harve has been a member of the Marion Baptist church for 42 years, a member of the Convention Bible Class for 41 years and a deacon of the church for 28 years.
 One of the things that Harve remembers most of all is the first purchase he made in a store. Where the Bank of Marion now stands, Dr. O. C. Sprinkle operated a drug store, and Harve bought a stick of white chewing gum from him for his first store purchase.

There are very few men in Smyth County or in the nation that can boast such a record of working as Harve Powell. Harve worked within a 300 yard radius for about 49 years. Harve started with the old Marion Manufacturing and Milling Company, which stood where the handle mill finishing room now is, the Marion Foundry and Machine Works, in a blacksmith shop on the same block for himself and for Marion Handle Mills, making a total of 49 years within a 300 yard radius.
 Harve started working when he was 16 years old for W. F. Culbert in the rock quarry carrying rock. He stayed with this job for two years and moved to the Lincoln Wagon Works, working in the blacksmith shop for one year. In 1904 he started working with the Marion Manufacturing and Milling Company and then in 1906 he worked with the Marion Foundry and Machine Works. This shop closed down, and in 1924 he opened a blacksmith shop for himself. In 1942 he closed his shop and started working with Marion Handle Mills as a foreman. On September 31 he retired.
 When asked what his plans now were, Harve said, "I'm going to sleep as long as I want to, and the first big job I'm going to do is to go hickory nut hunting."
 One of the things that Harve easily recalls is the big change in the town of Marion. Harve can remember when an old weatherboarded building operated by a Mr. Thomas as a store stood where Marion Motors now is. From the Jewel Box to the Bank of Marion, Harve said was nothing but small shacks. An old house known as the Gillmore house stood where the Piggy Wiggy and Corner are now. Where Sayers Florist is, the Baptist Church then stood. There was a big sink hole, and a family that lived behind the building had smallpox, Harve stated. "This was the first case of smallpox I ever heard of

If Property Is Borrowed It Can't Be Hocked
 Fred Cassell of near Marion last Friday claimed that he "just borrowed" a neighbor's rifle and had taken it to be fixed, borrowing $3 on the gun while having it fixed. Judge W. V. Birchfield thought decided that securing money on a "borrowed" piece of property constituted a misdemeanor. The trial justice judge gave Cassell a fine of $25 and six months in jail — suspended upon payment of costs and replacing the rifle. Cassell stated that he borrowed the rifle and that it was necessary to have it fixed. He said that he borrowed the $3 on the rifle while it was being repaired. The owner claimed that he took the gun from another neighbor's house. Walter Sturgill pled guilty to driving under the influence of an intoxicant and was fined the usual $100 and 60 days, time suspended. He lost driving privileges for 12 months. George Heffinger drew the biggest sentence of the day, suspended. He was fined $10 and costs and given 12 months, on a non-support charge, all suspended upon paying his wife for support of the children. He drew similar fines, all suspended, on charges of assaulting his wife and resisting arrest. The Attorney man was arrested last Thursday night after his wife claimed that he beat her up and called officers. It was necessary to break down a door to the home to arrest the man. Two charges, one for a hot check, made good, and one for vagrancy, were dismissed upon motion of the commonwealth's attorney. Monday's court was even briefer than Saturday's. There was not a single criminal case on the docket.

TAKE THIS AD WITH YOU TO YOUR DEALER

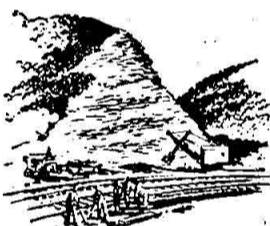

There are approximately 29,500 owners of capital stock of the Norfolk and Western — people just like you. In fact, you may be one of the owners of the Norfolk and Western.

The Norfolk and Western uses a total of 3,585 telephones.

The N & W's Chemical Laboratory at Roanoke makes approximately 35,000 analyses per year. These tests range from determining the ash content of coal to analyses of ores, drinking water, steel, etc. Balances used in this Laboratory are so sensitive they can weigh as little as 1 five-millionth of a pound!

Since the end of World War II, the Norfolk and Western has spent and authorized more than $214,000,000 for improvements and additions all along the line.

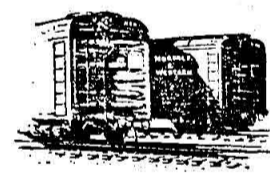

In 1952, the N & W paid a Federal tax bill of $30,756,931, plus $8,799,866 in taxes paid to cities, towns, counties, and states in which it operates. This represented a total tax bill of $39,556,797, which is equal to 20¢ for each dollar of operating revenue, or $1,808 for each N & W employee.

In 1952, the Norfolk and Western's property investment averaged $31,690.00 per employee.

In 1952, N & W employees were paid $91,120,000 in wages and salaries, and since the end of World War II through last year, they have received $542,065,000. These payroll dollars circulate through the communities along the N & W, benefiting the people and government of those communities.

A Norfolk and Western freight car works day and night for 12 years before it pays for itself. Since the end of World War II, the N & W has spent approximately $53,000,000 for new freight cars.

The Norfolk and Western's Pier "N" at Lambert's Point — which can accommodate four of the largest ocean-going vessels simultaneously — is the largest single-deck pier on the Atlantic Coast.

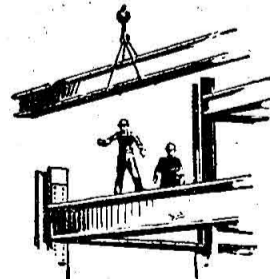

During 1952, 308,158 meals were served on Norfolk and Western dining cars. For each dollar of dining car revenue taken in the N & W spent $1.60.

There are nearly 60,000 items on the N & W's "shopping list," and the cost of N & W purchases runs from $60 million to $70 million per year, depending upon current conditions. All things being equal, the N & W buys from firms located along its line. Like N & W payroll dollars, these "shopping list" dollars are a substantial aid to the economic life of the communities along the N & W.

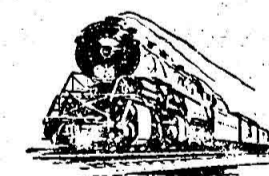

If all the cross-ties supporting N & W rails were laid end to end, they would reach a distance of approximately 22,000 miles, or almost around the world. It would cost $67,500,000 to replace them.

Last year, 151 new factories and factory additions were constructed in N & W territory, representing a total capital investment of $72,000,000, and employing 4,890 persons, in addition to the Atomic Energy Plant in Pike County, Ohio, being built at a cost of one billion, two hundred million dollars.

Members of the Norfolk and Western Family have passed their 26th-million-dollar milestone in the purchase of U. S. Defense Savings Bonds through the Payroll Purchase Plan.

Last year, the N & W used 2,083,586 tons of coal for locomotive fuel.

For a number of years, the Norfolk and Western has consistently advertised in Business Week, United States News and World Report, Fortune, Newsweek, Wall Street Journal and other business publications, to tell top management of the industrial advantages offered by the territory served by the railroad. In addition, for more than a half-century the N & W has maintained its own staff of industrial development specialists to assist manufacturers in finding satisfactory plant sites in this territory.

The Norfolk and Western has won the Harriman Memorial Gold Medal five times, the highest safety honor in railroading. In addition, the N & W has twice received the National Safety Council's Award for the best employee safety record, and twice the American Museum of Safety's Certificate of Commendation.

The railroad maintains 66 merchandise freight, coal, and passenger traffic offices in 39 principal cities strategically located throughout the nation.

In 1952, the N & W transported 64,154,536 tons of revenue freight, of which 46,495,667 tons (or 72.5%) were Bituminous Coal.

As of mid-1953, a total of 330 N & W Veterans now living were wearing the diamond insignia awarded by the N & W Veterans' Association who have completed 50 years or more of service. Of this number, 127 were still on active duty.

Farm Delegates Report on Beef Cattle Problem

Members of a delegation of the Smyth County Farmer's Union, who joined about 350 others recently in Washington to appear before Secretary of Agriculture Benson in regards to support prices for the dwindling beef cattle market, this week announced that they were standing pat on the farmer's request for such supports.

"We want to be understood as not wanting a higher price for the consumer, but a smaller spread between the price paid the cattle grower for his product and the prices charged the housewives by the five big packing concerns," they stated.

M. T. Pratt, V. M. Cox, R. M. McGhee and G. B. Parks Jr. represented Smyth County in the 30 state caravan which appeared before the secretary of agriculture.

"We do not want to see beef cattle prices soar to the old high which they did at one time," they stated this week to members of their organization. "But there is too large a spread between present prices."

They said that their Smyth County organization is standing behind National Farmers Union President James G. Patton in his statement that the conference was an "expression of real grass-roots opinion." Regardless of its ultimate effect, it has served to crystallize and dramatize the plight of thousands of farm and ranch families who stand now in grave danger of seeing their "for their eyes," Mr. Patton said, for their eyes, Mr. Patton said.

The Smyth group also stated that the statements made by Senator Frank Carlson (R-Kan.), Senator Lester Lunt (D-Wyo.) and Senator Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.) urgently requesting support prices and expressing grave concern over the economic plight of the cattle farmer is their platform in seeking a better balance between the cost spread.

Bitter medicine

The administration of medicine to youngsters often poses problems which only parents can understand. To win co-operation from a finicky child sometimes requires the patience of Job and the persuasion of Paul. The taste of modern pharmaceuticals, however, is greatly improved over the intensely bitter preparations used a few decades ago. Distasteful drugs are carefully masked by sugar-coatings, capsules, syrups, and other pleasing vehicles. To provide medicine in palatable form is the pharmacist's art. This is of primary concern here. Naturally, we cannot guarantee that all prescriptions will be pleasing to the taste, but we do our very best to make them so.
